'Lizzie' Starts Last Trip as Troopship

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Feb. 15.—(CP)—The liner Queen Elizabeth sailed for New York today with 10,000 troops and airmen from every Canadian military district, including the Maple Leaf hockey team, Canadian Army in England champions.

MEDICAL WALKING CASES aboard included seven officers, two warrant officers and 145 other ranks.

Also aboard were 1,600 RCAF personnel, including 114 members of the women's division.

The Canadian Press learned in London that this will be the last voyage of the Queen Elizabeth as a troopship.

The big liner, which has carried tens of thousands of Canadian troops across the Atlantic, will go into drydock on her return to England for refitting for civilian travel. It is expected she will be ready to operate as a luxury passenger liner by early autumn.

SIR ARTHUR HARRIS, retired chief of the RAF Bomber Command, who was among the passengers, said "Canadian fliers sometimes bit off more than they could chew, but they did a good job of chewing." Sir Arthur will return to Rhodesia, his homeland, after visiting New York, accompanied by Lady Harris and his six-year-old daughter, Jackie.

New Proposals May Bring End To Steel Strike

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The United States steel strike, which for the last 26 days has made idle more than 850,000 workers and has greatly slowed the country's reconversion program, appeared near settlement today following disclosure of President Truman's higher wage-price policy.

A QUICK END of the steel wage dispute was the immediate hope of government officials as a result of the new formula, which provides price increases for industry and government approved wage raises.

In line with the policy, high officials said, settlement of the steel strike was possible on the basis of a 18½-cent-hourly wage hike as previously recommended by Mr. Truman. Another factor, they said, would be a $5 a ton increase in the price of steel.

AS MR. TRUMAN announced his new policy last night and also named Chester Bowles, director of price administration chief, to the post of economic stabilization administrator, officials of the United

Penicillin Cures Cattle Disease

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Another victory for the wonder-drug, penicillin—the conquest of the hitherto incurable dairy cattle disease known as mastitis—was reported today by the agriculture department.

A press release told how department scientists working under the direction of Dr. Charles A. Mitchell, Dominion animal pathologist, cured approximately six of every seven cows suffering from mastitis with injections of penicillin.

THE DISCOVERY marks the first known cure in any part of the world for the infection.

The disease, caused by several germs, including streptococcus agalactiae, is an inflammation of the udder which frequently destroys the milk-secreting tissue of each infected quarter of the udder, reducing the yield of milk.

Girl Bookkeeper Is Knocked Down, Robbed of $5,000

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(CP)—A short, dirty-faced bandit dragged a girl bookkeeper into a downtown laneway yesterday, knocked her to the ground when she resisted, and fled with her brief case containing $1,427 in cash and $4,000 in cheques.

Sylvia Sharf, 22, bookkeeper for Kalles and Sharf, fruit wholesalers, was taking company receipts to a bank when the robbery occurred. The robber leaped on the running board of an automobile containing two accomplices and fled.

Miss Sharf told police at least a dozen passers-by witnessed the holdup but made no attempt to help.

Prospects Good

Transportation Extensions Seen To North Areas

Prospects for development of transportation to areas in Northern Alberta and the North West Territories were "extremely bright", L. E. Drummond, secretary manager of the Alberta and North West Chamber of Mines, said here Friday on his return from Ottawa.

FOR THE PAST THREE weeks Mr. Drummond has been in conference with officials of five federal departments who represent the Dominion government's committee selected to study plans and recommendations compiled by Mr. Drummond from first hand data concerning transportation and other development problems associated with remote areas of the north.

Mr. Drummond, met at the train by an Edmonton Bulletin reporter, said the trip had been "very successful" and that Alberta could look forward to stimulated activity in and beyond its northern boundary.

PRESSED FOR TIME, he declined immediate comment on declarations made at the Ottawa conference, saying, "there are so many things to say that I wouldn't know where to start."

He said he would prepare a statement for release at an early date.

Transportation of heavy equipment and supplies into the Territories has been one of the main problems faced by mining companies and other industries, and it is expected Mr. Drummond's report will have something to say on the possibilities of building permanent highways and increasing the navigability of rivers, as well as air travel.

A CONSIDERABLE number of applications have been made by mining firms intending to set up in the north. They are awaiting final completion of arangements for movement of their equipment.

UNO Approves Permanent Site

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(CP)—The United Nations general assembly finished the business of the historic London session last night by approving unanimously the Westchester-Fairfield area of New York and Connecticut as the new permanent world capital and voting New York City as the peace organization's temporary site.

BY A UNANIMOUS vote the general assembly called upon its 51 member countries for "immediate and drastic" action to head off global famine.

It asked them to conserve food supplies and grow all the grain they could.

DISCUSSING the world famine threat, delegate after delegate stressed the gravity of the international food situation. Big and small, the powers pledged support in anti-famine action.

State Secretary Paul Martin promised that Canada, already shipping wheat at the rate of approximately 1,000,000 bushels a working day, will do her utmost to meet the food demands of the United Nations.

Hearing Opens

Alleged Slayer Of Wife Goes Before Court

Preliminary hearing of a murder charge against Edward Tkaczyk, Holden, plasterer, opened before Magistrate A. I. Millar, KC, in city police court Friday morning. He is accused of shooting his wife, Sophie Tkaczyk, last Feb. 3 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Laskoski, who farm about one-and-one-half miles north of Holden.

THIRTEEN EXHIBITS were tendered to the court by Mr. Guy Paterson, KC, prosecuting, including 11 photographs showing the outside and interior of the Laskoski home and the rifle with which the accused is alleged to have murdered his wife.

The courtroom was packed as the 42-year-old exserviceman arrived under an RCMP escort. Entering the dock, he listened to the evidence with little sign of emotion. The accused wore a protective covering over his right eye, covering an injury alleged to have been caused by a self-inflicted .303 calibre rifle wound.

BULLET WOUNDS FOUND on the body of the dead woman were described by Coroner, Dr. A. E. Caldwell of Viking, and by Dr. J. W. Macgregor, pathologist at the University of Alberta, who conducted the post mortem.

Dr. Macgregor said that the accused man's wife was killed by a bullet wound which entered the right temple, severed the spinal cord and heart and emerged at the lower part of the left breast. There were no powder burns, the doctor testified.

However Mr. Wray was not at the morning meeting and was asked if he planned to cross the floor of the house. He replied he had no such intention.

"Butcher of Poland" on Trial

Charge 3,000,000 Jews 'Liquidated' by Frank

NUERNBERG, Feb. 15. — (BUP) —Hans Frank, the Nazi governor-general of Poland, was accused before the war crimes court today of "liquidating" at least 3,000,000 Jews during the war.

SOVIET PROSECUTOR Ivan Smirnov gave the Allied tribunal an account of activities by Frank which eminently qualified him for the designation "Butcher of Poland."

Thousands of Polish intellectuals were among the millions condemned by Hans Frank, the Russian prosecutor told the court.

He quoted a passage from Frank's diary urging that anti-Nazis be shot wherever they were found because it was "too much bother" to send them to concentration camps.

Smirnov said Frank made the entry in his diary in 1940, and about the same time wrote further:

"EVEN IF PEACE is concluded, nothing will change in our treatment. Peace will merely mean that then, as a world power, we will carry on the same general political line, only with greater intensity. Peace will change nothing fundamentally."

Frank, sitting in the defendants' dock, listened with cynical disdain, his lower lip protruding.

Smirnov said Frank cautioned police at a meeting Jan. 25, 1943, against being "too soft" in connection with executions. He quoted Frank as saying:

"LET US REMEMBER that all of us here at this meeting are on the war criminal list of Mr. Roosevelt. I have the honor of being No. 1 on that list. We have become, so to speak, conspirators on a grand scale in world history."

Smirnov said Frank was Hitler's "necessary evil gnome of jurisprudence."

Rumors Spiked

Find No Evidence Cafes Serve Some 'Unusual' Meat

A most stringent inspection of city restaurants has failed to disclose a single shred of evidence in support of rumors that "unusual meat" is being sold to cafe patrons in any of the city's eating places, Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health, stated Friday.

He said there was no foundation whatsoever for the rumors that meat unfit for human consumption was being served in any restaurant. He added that a careful inspection has been carried on since the rumors started, and prior to the rumors the inspection of restaurants had been increased, as an increase in the number of sanitary inspectors had permitted the zoning of the city into six districts and as a result more intensive coverage of each area.

Dr. Little said that he believed the rumor that unusual meat was being served in restaurants stemmed from an inquiry made by an individual to the health department.

This man brought to the department a chicken wing bone and suggested it was the bone of a cat. The bone was examined, and it was proved beyond doubt that it was from the carcass of a chicken, and not a cat as suggested.

Dr. Little gave full assurance to all patrons of restaurants that no "unusual meats" were being served, and with the stringent inspections, it would not be possible for any cafe operator to serve such meats even if so disposed.

Remand Scientist On Radium Charge

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Marcel Pochon, a French scientist, yesterday was remanded until Feb. 18 and released on $5,000 bail when he appeared in police court on a charge of conspiracy involving a sum "not less than $500,000."

Pochon was among those who developed the process of extracting radium from pitch-blende deposits of the Eldorado Mining and Refining Ltd. and is a former director of the company.

CARL B. FRENCH, former secretary of the company, and Boris Pregal who, police said, was a former sales agent for the company now believed in New York, also have been charged with the same offence. French was remanded until Feb. 18, when he appeared in court last December while a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Pregal.

The charge as laid by Royal Canadian Mounted Police said that the trio conspired to defraud Eldorado Gold Mines Ltd. of a quantity of radium and a sum of money estimated to be not less than $500,000.

Forty-Hour Week Subject at Meet

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15.—(CP)—The 40-hour week, hottest issue on the labor front today, will be discussed in Ottawa Feb. 26 when regional war labor board members meet with the national board, it was announced here yesterday by M. E. McHugh, chief executive officer of the British Columbia regional board.

Meanwhile approximately 12 applications for the 40-hour week from British Columbia industries are being held in abeyance by the regional board pending outcome of the conference.

THE WAR LABOR BOARDS are concerned with the 40-hour week because they are charged with administration of wage control orders —and granting of a 40-hour week is considered the same as granting a wage increase.

Labor's demands for the 40-hour week are coupled with the demand for no reduction in "take-home" pay.

New Truman Plan

U.S. to Have Higher Wage-Price Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—President Truman gave the United States a new, higher wage-price policy last night and named Chester Bowles anti-inflationist—to run it as GOVERNMENT approval will be required for any wage increase which might lead to higher prices, the White House announced, and industries granting permitted pay raises may seek price adjustments at once. At present they must wait six months to establish a record of need.

Mr. Truman in a statement declared it imperative that "production in great volume be accomplished" but asserted that under the old stabilization formula "collective bargaining has broken down in many important situations."

"Several major strikes are in progress," he said. "Vitally needed production is lagging."

"I AM NOW modifying our wage-price policy to permit wage increases within certain limits and to permit any industry placed in a hardship position by an approved increase to seek price adjustments without waiting until the end of a six-month test period, as previously required."

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today announced that the Canadian Occupation Force of 25,000 men will be withdrawn from Germany early in April.

Mr. King's 300-word announcement added that the present shipping situation "forecast all troops now in Germany should be back in Canada by September or October."

THE STATEMENT referred to the withdrawal of the air force and said "negotiations are proceeding which may result in an earlier withdrawal being made possible."

Mr. King pointed out that Canada, unlike the big nations, was not

Member Urges Higher Grants For Education

Alberta has led the way for other Canadian provinces in equalizing educational opportunities for rural children, according to L. C. Halmrast, MLA for Warner, as he seconded the address in reply to the Speech From the Throne Friday afternoon as the Alberta Legislature started its first session following the opening Thursday.

MR. HALMRAST was making his maiden speech in the legislature. He was elected in a by-election last summer occasioned by the resignation of Solon E. Low, who took over the duties of leader of the Dominion Social Credit party.

The inception of the enlarged school division in 1937 has enabled the rural child to increase his high school standard from three to four grades, Mr. Halmrast, who was a school trustee in his home school division for nine years and is a vice-president of the Alberta School Trustees' Association, said.

He told the court he was surprised to find his actions illegal.

Practically all 300 residents of the village jammed the court room for the hearing during which police testified 145 beer ration books were found in a raid on Marcotte's home Feb. 9.

Marcotte said that for nearly a year he had been transporting beer from Sudbury for Chelmsford drinkers. He charged 25 cents a delivery "and carried it right into their back porch when I left the milk."

Housing Policy Under Attack In Legislature

Dominion government policies in regard to housing and employment for veterans were flayed in the Alberta Legislature on Friday by Michael Ponich, MLA for Vegreville, who moved that the house adopt the Speech from the Throne as read during the opening ceremonies of the house on Thursday.

"THE GOVERNMENT at Ottawa has finally decided to take a belated notice of the acute problem of housing," he said. "Its government housing problem is a flop, if ever there was one. The words 'too little and too late' just fit the situation. There has been too much talk and too little reality."

It is small comfort for a veteran seated on a "block of wood in a hovel" to read that there is a government on foot in Ottawa to beautify that city as a war memorial, the member said.

A DEMOCRATIC Canada with jobs, security and freedom is the right kind of a memorial, he said.

The attitude of the Dominion government toward the provision of those things which go to make a higher standard of living is that the necessary money for this purpose must be wrung from the pockets of

Increase in the hours of sale in beverage rooms throughout the province is suggested by Hon. C. E. An inconclusive meeting was held on Friday morning and continued into the afternoon, with J. A. King, chairman of the Alberta Liquor Control Board, attending.

The proposed number of hours suggested by the hotelmen was not disclosed, but it is thought they are requesting a 12-hour day, which they would add 2,500 men to hotel staffs.

Official Warns Social Order To Be Changed

REGINA, Sask., Feb. 15.—(CP)—Dr. J. S. Thomson, president of the University of Saskatchewan, said last night a new social order was unavoidable and Canada could make the change either by violence or by moral decision and education.

Addressing the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Trustees Association, he said if Canada could resist the blandishments of theorists alike in politics and education" then she had the finest opportunity of all.

The essential of Christian faith was the only sure basis for a great advance in education. Efficiency in education was not enough. Germany and Japan had been efficient educators but the right kind of education depended upon Christian values and the importance given to education depended on the value given to human life.

Harriman Resigns As U.S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—President Truman announced last night that he had accepted the resignation of Averell Harriman as ambassador to Russia and named Lt.-Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as his successor.

Press secretary Charles G. Ross, who made public the president's announcement, said that legislation would be asked Friday to permit Gen. Smith to take the post without affecting his military status. The nomination will be formally submitted later.

GEN. SMITH SERVED as chief of staff for Gen. Eisenhower in Europe.

The announcement marked the second time the president had turned to the army for an important diplomatic appointment. Recently he named Gen. Marshall as ambassador to China.

SATISFACTORY alike to organists, choirs, soloists, ministers and congregations, the Marshall Organ fills a long-felt want in churches that are unable to consider the cost of an expensive organ installation.

This fine instrument produces that rich mellow tone so desirable in securing a proper ecclesiastical musical setting for the entire service. It has a remarkable volume when that is required; can be shaded down to a whisper for solo work or pianissimo passages; and has a pleasing flexibility of expression.

Many congregations are installing Minshall Organs as suitable War Memorials.

Admit Statement In Murder Trial

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15.—(CP)—A statement made to police by Leonard J. Watt, charged with the murder of his step-father, William Burke, was admitted as evidence at an assizes court trial here yesterday. Burke was fatally stabbed at his home last Christmas.

The statement describes a drinking party held at Burke's home Christmas Eve during which altercations between Watt and his step-father were frequent.

WATT STATED that at some time during the night he found himself on his knees with three men kicking him, his step-father, Mr. Rondos, and an unidentified man.

"I got up and ran to the kitchen and picked up a knife. I ran back to scare them," Watt said. His step-father met him in the hallway and wrestled with him. Watt said he swung wildly with both fists and Burke ran outside screaming. The next thing he remembered they were carrying him away in a stretcher and the police were there. The hearing is continuing.

North Dog Team Now at Saskatoon After Hard Trip

SASKATOON, Feb. 15.—(CP)—The Whitehorse to Winnipeg dog-team arrived here late yesterday with more than three quarters of their 3,000-mile trip behind them. Manager Paul Belanger said the dogs would be rested for several days before taking off on the last 500 miles to Winnipeg.

The dogs were in good shape but gravel highways have been hard on both dogs and men. Three sleds have been used up so far in the trip. Belanger said the team had been travelling across open country wherever possible because it was easier.

The trek was undertaken to publicize the Yukon golden jubilee to be held in Whitehorse in July.

Wages Committee Appointed by CCL

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Wage increase demands of Canadian labor yesterday were given new impetus by action of the Canadian Congress of Labor Executive Council in appointing a wage co-ordination committee and laying down a policy pledging support of campaigns for higher wages and reduced hours.

THE WAGE COMMITTEE will have the job of co-ordinating as far as possible wage campaigns which have already been launched by a number of unions connected with the congress. In general these campaigns are aimed at a minimum objective—as set out in today's congress wage declaration—of reducing working time to 40 hours a week and increasing wages so that employees will have the same pay they now are receiving for longer hours.

Members of the committee are: Pat Conroy, Ottawa, CCL secretary-treasurer; Alex McAuslane, Montreal, CCL vice - president; George Burt, Windsor, Ont., Canadian director, United Automobile Workers (CIO); C. H. Millard, Toronto, Canadian director, United Steelworkers (CIO) and Robert Carlin, Sudbury, Canadian director, International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO).

recorded here, describing it as being of "moderate intensity," and said he believed it centred near Olympia, state capital city.

PEOPLE RAN IN fright from the hotel Olympian here when a massive 75 feet long dropped from the six-storey high roof to the roof of the first floor.

A heavy safe was thrown eight feet across the floor in the army's water division offices at Seattle.

A Northern Pacific Railroad bunkhouse 20 miles north of Yakima, Wash., was destroyed by flames when the tremblor overturned an oil stove.

THE ATTENDANT on the 5,900-foot-long Lions Gate bridge in Vancouver, longest suspension bridge in the British Empire, said the structure swayed considerably for "a couple of seconds". The bridge rises more than 200 feet above the entrance to Vancouver's harbor. There was little traffic on the bridge at the time.

Among cities in Washington where the quake was felt were Seattle, Tacoma, Hoquiam and Spokane. The Mount St. Michael's observatory in Spokane said the quake "appeared light, but fairly close".

Newspaper offices in Vancouver were flooded with telephone calls as citizens in practically every district reported the quake. A woman resident in Kitsilano district, said the chesterfield in her home bounced out from the wall and several nick-knacks dropped off the mantle piece. Shaking of the home woke her baby daughter.

G. E. GOODSTREET, professor of geology at the University of Washington, said the shock was the "largest local earthquake" ever picked up by the university's machine. He timed it at 8.18 p.m. (MST).

In Salem, Ore., south of Portland, the quake was felt slightly.

Seattle's old police headquarters "cracked and groaned," officers said. Some plaster fell from the walls and ceilings of the 10-storey county-city building.

the people and the amount in those pockets is the absolute limit of taxation, no matter how much wealth the country is capable of producing, he said.

"WE KNOW different and Mr. Ilsley knows that what is physically possible is financially possible."

Mr. Ponich made reference to the end of the war and paid tribute to Premier Ernest Manning as the type of man Alberta needs during the stressful post war period.

FARMERS AND OTHERS in his home constituency, and many had suffered loss during the war and were still labouring under war-induced shortages and difficulties, considered themselves fortunate to have been able to make some contribution to victory.

These same people were looking to the future with hope for the establishment of a new and better day and it was to face this that the members of the Legislature were gathered.

HE ADDED a fifth freedom to the four which were guaranteed in the Atlantic Charter, a freedom of choice, and pointed out that freedom from fear does not mean necessarily freedom from the fear of invasion, but also freedom from fear of the policeman's knock on the door.

IT WAS A STARTLING fact that more than 350,000 Canadians were rejected as unfit for "service anywhere, in any capacity," the member said, as he drew attention to the section of the Speech from the Throne making reference to health services in which the government undertakes to provide a comprehensive post-war program of health services. Responsibility for the provision of these services should be shared by the federal government, he said.

Considerable attention was paid during his remarks to rural electrification, for which he claimed there had been wide agitation by farm groups throughout the province. He believed that those conditions which in the past had made the problem difficult of solution were on the way to being eliminated.

TREASURY BRANCHES, he noted, had shown their first surplus since their inception and he outlined some of the difficulties which had faced the government when the scheme was first launched. Critics have now run out of material for their broadsides, since the treasury branches were now on a paying basis.

Muskox Force Gets Underway On Long Trek

By E. L. WILLIAMS

CHURCHILL, Man., Feb. 15.—(CP)—An 80-man moving force of Exercise Muskox, the Canadian Army's research expedition into Canada's Northwest Territories, took off from here today in some of the bitterest weather of the winter on the first leg of the 3,100-mile trek. Poor visibility yesterday had forced a 24-hour postponement.

Spectators huddled in a 45 degree below temperature and a five mile an hour wind as the boom of two brass six-pounder cannon fired by R. B. Urquhart, manager of the Hudson's Bay post here, announced the actual start of the expedition, most ambitious of its kind yet attempted in North America.

A BRIEF CEREMONY was held at base camp where Brig. R. O. G. Morton, district officer commanding, MD 10, Winnipeg, took the salute.

The force, commanded by 44-year-old Lt.-Col. P. D. Baird of Montreal, himself an expert in the north, travelled in 11 Canadian-built snowmobiles and a Weasel. At Baker Lake, 400 miles north of here and the end of the first leg, a 12th snowmobile will be substituted for the Weasel. Its mission: to tow two sleds laden with supplies.

one of the occupying powers and was not a member of the Allied control commission. At the same time other European allies, not in a position to supply contingents at the beginning of the occupation, "are now becoming increasingly able to share in occupation duties."

IN MAKING the announcement Mr. King recalled a statement he had made in the House of Commons April 4 of last year in which he indicated that from time to time, as considerations of safety and security permitted, reductions would be made in the size of the occupation forces.

"At the outset, Canadian participation in the occupation of Germany was a natural development from our participation in the military operations in that area of Europe," Mr. King said. "Unlike the United Kingdom, the United States, the Soviet Union and France, Canada is not one of the occupying powers and is not a member of the Allied control commission. The Canadian contingent has consisted only of one division with ancillary troops in the British occupational zone.

"CERTAIN of the other European Allies which were not in a position to supply contingents at the beginning of the occupation now are becoming increasingly able to share in occupation duties.

"Now that the greater part of the Canadian Army has been repatriated, the maintenance of a small occupation force thousands of miles from home has become increasingly difficult. Aside from grave difficulties in certain aspects of administration, the overhead required to provide headquarters, services, amenities, etc., for the Canadian force is inevitably quite out of proportion to its size.

"AS HAS BEEN previously announced, one squadron of the RC AF will be withdrawn from the occupational force at the end of March, 1946, and the remaining squadrons will be withdrawn on June 30. Negotiations are proceeding which may result in an earlier withdrawal being made possible."

school division superior to the old rural school, including such items as free school supplies, hot soup at the noon hour, dormitories for high school students and bus service for others, playground equipment, better supervision and equipment and instruction in home economics.

While teachers' salaries are not yet high enough to tempt the best type into the profession, they have increased from a basic $700 to $1,000 a year, with increments based on experience and ability, he said. Many districts have now reached the top insofar as local finances permit, the member said, as he urged increased provincial and federal grants.

Many roads in his part of the district will probably benefit from the government's announced plan of a five-year program of highway improvement, the Warner member stated.

THE DISTRICT he represents is one which requires a comprehensive and completed irrigation program, Mr. Haimrast said, as he instanced difficulties he had himself experienced on his sheep ranch, on which he had been unable to gather sufficient feed from 3,000 acres to feed his band of 1,000 ewes. A neighboring farmer had constructed dams which enabled him to flood 100 acres, from which he gathered a crop of 30 bushels an acre, as compared to four or five bushels per acre on nearby fields.

Referring to the throne speech, he said, "The people of the south will be pleased to know that our government will give this problem serious consideration."

HE RECOMMENDED that the government should expend every effort to extend irrigation to the southeast corner of the province to link up with other projects already in operation.

"Those lands which are as fertile as any in the world, lacking in rainfall only, will produce abundant crops of all kinds if irrigated," he predicted.

Efforts are being made in the Lethbridge area, where some of the largest ranches in Canada are situated, to establish a co-operative packing plant, he announced. Such a plant would bring great benefits to southern ranchers and farmers in the marketing of their livestock.

IRRIGATION AND TWO sugar beet factories in the south of the province contribute great quantities of feed for finishing the cattle in the district, the member said, as he pointed out that in the Raymond and Picture Butte districts about 150,000 head of sheep and cattle were fed in the last season. When finished this crop of livestock will have a value of nearly $6,000,000.

The people's mandate to the government for economic reform has been repeated, he concluded and those same people have every confidence that under the leadership of Premier Ernest Manning that policy will be carried out.

who treated Tkaczyk, said he had been injured by a bullet which entered under the chin and travelled upwards, emerging through the right eye socket. He testified that there were extensive powder burns under the accused man's chin.

MRS. ROSIE SONEVITCH of Foe, gave a detailed account of a visit paid to her home by Tkaczyk on New Year's Day. She stated that he arrived with his brother "Pete" and a taxi driver. Tkaczyk said he was "going to kill all the Laskoskys, his wife and himself," Mrs. Sonevitch testified. "He was crying awfully hard and said his wife accused him of being with another woman but it wasn't true," she said.

The woman told the court that she told Tkaczyk that it would be "foolishness to do that," but hadn't believed he would do anything. The accused said he "didn't want to support his wife if he wasn't living with her," she said.

1851 DOZORETZ and A. J. Martin, city second-hand dealers, told the court of selling a rifle and a box of shells, respectively, to the accused. They identified a rifle "put in" by Mr. Patterson as an exhibit.

Neil D. Maclean, KC, defending the accused, closely cross-examined all witnesses for the Crown. He carried out a lengthy examination of photographs showing the living room of the Laskosky house where Mrs. Tkaczyk's body was found, and of the bedroom upstairs where police found the accused lying on a bed wounded. Photographs and a plan of the building were explained in detail by Cpl. T. B. Richards, RC MP.

SCHEDULED TO APPEAR in the witness box Friday afternoon were Cecil Boggen, taxi driver; Joseph Laskosky, brother of the dead woman; Constable Poole and Detective Sgt. F. A. Broadribb, both of the RCMP.

Argentine Denies Links With Nazis

From Canadian Press, Associated Press and British United Press dispatches

Foreign Minister Juan I. Cooke last night denied for himself and President Edelmiro Farrell, United States state department charges that members of the Argentine government had dealt with the Nazis.

Cooke, in the first official comment, said in an address that the state department's blue book gave rise to suspicions that it constituted evident intervention in the coming Argentine presidential election which was "unworthy of a great American nation." Earlier Col. Juan D. Peron, former vice-president and a candidate for the presidency, assorted in a published statement that Spruille Braden was "chief of a vast spy network" throughout South America while he served as United States ambassador to Argentina and that a former United States military attache had been expelled from Argentina for espionage.

Commons Faces Heavy Budget At Coming Meet

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—A heavy program of work will face members of parliament when they reconvene here March 14 for the second session of the 20th parliament, but the government is understood to be planning a summer adjournment to allow full Canadian representation at the peace conference in May.

A SOURCE in close touch with federal affairs said yesterday the government plans to suggest that the session adjourn at the end of May or by June 10 at the latest and reconvene in late August or early September.

He said also that cabinet changes likely would be announced before the opening of the session, with Justice Minister St. Laurent being given exclusive jurisdiction over the external affairs department, now headed by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Postmaster-General Bertrand was mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. St. Laurent as justice minister. There were reports, too, that Resources Minister Glen wished to resign and that he might be replaced by Walter Tucker, parliamentary assistant to Veterans Minister Mackenzie.

WORK LEFT OVER from the sitting which ended last December is expected to take up some time.

A bill to establish a distinctive Canadian citizenship is among the matters earmarked for discussion at the coming session. A committee established to choose a design for a distinctive Canadian flag will resume its work, but it is not known how long it may be before it makes a report to the Commons.

The veterans affairs committee is to be reconstituted to continue the study of measures which will form part of a Canadian veterans' charter while the external affairs committee is expected to give further study to an extradition treaty with the United States.

THE TREATY, providing for the extradition of persons who contravene the securities laws of the two countries, met opposition last year from brokers and securities firms.

Redistribution of federal constituencies also is scheduled to be tackled at the coming session.

Man Is Committed On Murder Charge

PEMBROKE, Ont., Feb. 15.—(CP)—Thomas Gibbons, 46-year-old farmer of the Douglas district near Renfrew, was committed yesterday to stand trial for murder in connection with the rifle slaying of two brothers, his second cousins, last Feb. 1.

Magistrate Austin O'Connor of Ottawa committed him after a two-hour hearing of the charge resulting from the deaths of John Edward, 25, and Joseph Fitzmaurice, 33.

SEVERAL HUNDRED district residents heard a surprise witness, Henry Castle of Eganville, say he had overheard Gibbons say to the Fitzmaurice brothers a year ago that "If you don't keep off my property, there will be blood spilled."

Leslie McNulty, 14, only witness of the shooting, said he had been cutting wood with the Fitzmaurice brothers and they were returning through a laneway on Gibbons farm when they stopped their sleigh to offer help in getting Gibbons' stalled car out of the snow.

Tragedy Discovered

Flock of Whistling Swans Dies from Mystery Malady

NANAIMO, B.C., Feb. 15.—(CP)—A strange illness has killed almost an entire flock of whistling swans near here and the few survivors are close to death, game warden Frank Greenfield reported yesterday.

Greenfield said he stumbled across the tragedy Wednesday while travelling through Ruggles swamp north of Nanaimo.

Ranged like a "council of death" sat the feathered skeletons of a dozen birds and as the warden watched, two dying birds flapped and crawled into the council and joined the silenced ranks, he said.

NEARBY WERE OTHER sick birds, all wing and leg paralyzed so that they could be approached and picked up. Upon the swamp waters drifted more birds, too paralyzed and exhausted to reach dry land with the rest.

These whistling swans average from 18 to 24 pounds in health.

Not a bird found Wednesday weighed more than six pounds. One paralyzed survivor was brought here by the warden and forwarded to provincial laboratories for examination.

The flock should ordinarily have flown south on annual migration at the end of November. Apparently victims of creeping paralysis they were unable to leave.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Disease which has almost wiped out a flock of whistling white swans at Nanaimo, B.C., is probably either lead poisoning or botulism, known as western duck sickness, a federal government official said last night.

Dr. H. Lewis, superintendent of wild life protection in the mines and resources department, said it was impossible however to diagnose the ailment without examination of the birds.

Steel Strike

States steel industry and the CIO United Steel Workers were reported close to agreement on the wage issue. One point reported under discussion was the date the wage increase to the 750,000 strikers should become effective.

In Detroit, there appeared no indication of resumption of wage negotiations between General Motors and the CIO United Auto Workers' Union.

MR. BOWLES, IN TAKING over the re-created OES post, will be in charge of laying down specific rules of the new policy, which eliminates the six-month period industries must wait before seeking price increases to cover approved wage hikes.

The national wage stabilization board will continue to have authority for granting pay boosts and Mr. Truman directed that pay increases but exceed the pattern of wage hikes in an industry or area since last Aug. 18—about 16 to 18 per cent.

OPERATIONS IN NEW YORK City's harbor, tied up by a 10-day strike of tugboat workers which resulted in a critical fuel shortage, were back to near normal today. Coal rationing remained in effect, because of low stockpiles, but restrictions on the use of fuel oil were removed following shipments of new supplies. The "brownout" of electric lighting, in effect during the emergency, was to end tonight.

In Los Angeles, the threat of a strike against motion picture studios by 6,000 members of 13 American Federation of Labor unions affiliated with the conference of studio unions continued but there was a possibility the AFL may not recognize the walkout.

To Study Effect of New Wage Orders

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Effects of recent relaxations in Dominion government wage control orders will be discussed here at a conference of regional and national war labor board members next Feb. 26, Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald of Halifax, national board chairman, said last night.

Amendments to the wage control order, announced Jan. 31 by Labor Minister Mitchell, changed the basis on which the boards might approve an increase in wages, but actual interpretation of the amendments was left to the boards themselves. It was expected this interpretation would be one of the main subjects of discussion at the conference.

UNDER THE WAGE CONTROL order as it stands now, it is no longer necessary for a board to find that "gross inequality or gross injustice" exists before granting an increase.

A board now may grant an increase in wages on a basis of comparison with a similar occupation in the same locality, or where it is felt the adjustment "is reasonable in the circumstances and consistent with the maintenance of existing prices of the goods and services which the employer sells".

It is believed the conference will attempt formulation of a national policy on just how far the amended order extends—an interpretation of what constitutes a "reasonable" cause for wage adjustment, and what is involved in the phrase, "consistent with the maintenance of existing prices".

Murder Appeal Ends at Calgary

CALGARY, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Hearing of the appeal of Lawrence Ross Barrs, 20-year-old Bowness farmer, who was found guilty Nov. 5, of the murder of Frank Bishop Tomas, 62-year-old watchmaker, concluded yesterday in the Calgary court house. Verdict of the appeal court is expected to be given within the next few days. Before the court adjourned A. L. Smith, KC, MP, senior defence counsel, presented a brief rebuttal to the argument of the crown prosecutor, C. S. Blanchard, KC.

Profit System Must Be Second To State Need

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(CP)—If a "reactionary movement now under way" is to be averted, individualists must subject profits to the needs of state and "through the state to the needs of the masses," Agriculture Minister Gardiner said yesterday.

Addressing the Empire club, Mr. Gardiner said that there had been "a long painful advance through the ages" from totalitarian state control to individual enterprise and freedom.

"The incentive which has led the advance in many places has been profit," he said. "Like most other good things the ability to make profits can be and has been used to exploit the masses.

"The masses have made up their minds that any exploitation which prevails must cease."

German Scientists Working For U.S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—War Secretary Patterson yesterday disclosed some 150 German scientists and technicians have been put to work in the United States on "military projects." Lifting some of the secrecy surrounding the scope of their work, he added in a letter to Senator J. William Fulbright (Dem.-Ark.) that approximately 140 others probably will arrive "in the near future."

MANILA, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A Philippines Airlines plane with 21 passengers aboard, unreported since Thursday morning, is safe and is returning to Manila, the Airlines announced today. Discharge Points Get Further Drop

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—(CP)—A further reduction in the priority score system of the Canadian Army in Canada was announced last night, lowering to 60 the minimum point total required for discharge from the service, effective Friday.

A corresponding reduction is made in the point total required for industrial discharge, making soldiers with 45 points or more eligible for discharge or return to former civilian employment.

PERSONNEL SERVING on various types of long-term service leave now may be discharged if their point scores are 45 or more, calculated on March 31 last.

An army public relations officer said the point system had no application overseas. With the arrival of the Queen Elizabeth at New York scheduled for Feb. 20, there would remain overseas only 20,000 members of the occupation army and slightly less than 20,000 troops in the United Kingdom.

These latter troops were busy winding up affairs at various headquarters, camps and depots and would remain there until the job was finished.

LACOMBE—Mrs. W. East and Mrs. John Scoffield, both of Wetaskiwin, were main speakers at a meeting of the Lacombe Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society last week.

The meeting got underway when the treasurer stated that members had reached their increased allocation of $200 more in 1945 than in the previous year. During the afternoon two discussion periods were held.

All officers were returned with Mrs. J. E. Love of Lacombe as president. Three new officers were elected. They were Mrs. W. East, Wetaskiwin, as second vice-president; Mrs. P. MacDonald, Ponoka, associate member secretary; and Mrs. Ray Miles Bentley, press secretary. During the meeting greetings were brought by Mayor T. Wilkes, the Rev. A. J. Law of Hobbema for the church, and the Rev. R. Binning of Wetaskiwin for the Presbytery.

Before enlisting, Mr. Wybert taught school in the Wetaskiwin district.

TROCHU—A two-headed calf has been on display in a store window. The calf was born on the farm of J. Radomsky who lives a few miles north of Trochu. Both heads are fully developed and both necks complete, joining at the shoulders. The rest of the body is normal.

LACOMBE—Effective Feb. 15, the area now served by the local office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board at Red Deer will be consolidated under jurisdiction of the Edmonton office, F. A. Dowler, local representative announced.

The board's office at Edmonton will be in a position to continue the services previously rendered by the office now being closed. Local ration boards in Lacombe and the surrounding territory will continue to operate.

Land of Gold and Glory

At Mile 150 on the Alaska Highway, where a profitable gold-mine may some day be operating, is the above large camp, built by a running stream alongside Gem Lake. The road loops around the camp and turns south behind it to pass on through the valley which cuts through the right of the picture. The property, cause of much interest in the Fort St. John district, was located by a couple of truck drivers in 1943 and staked by a private syndicate in 1944. Assays taken from open cuts traced for several hundred feet ran high, one at $240 worth of gold to the ton. The formation has been traced for 16,000 feet.

Bite of the Gold Bug Nips Many Northerners

FORT ST. JOHN—The gold bug has seized the people of this town and of Dawson Creek.

Some of them have a keen desire to get in on any riches that are to be made along the Alaska Highway properties and those who connot brave the cold winds and the deep snow to have a "look-see" at Buncho are putting up the cash to bring in more robust prospectors.

With the intention of extensive prospecting at the earliest opportunity, some 20 business men have put up $20,000 cash and are importing an Ontario and later a Yellowknife locator. A syndicate is being formed this week in Dawson Creek limited to thirty unit holders, with units worth $600 each. There were twice as many takers as units offered.

With an option on a property 50 miles south of Muncho and one with very attractive formation only slightly prospected, the syndicate will start exploring as soon as break-up.

Lacombe Isn't Spud Conscious Speaker States

LACOMBE—Thirty local potato growers attended their annual meeting in the town hall last week. Opening the meeting, Chairman J. A. Bradley called on P. D. Hargrave, superintendent of Brooks Horticultural station, to outline the latest methods and machinery for handling potatoes.

Provincial Inspector J. W. Marrit said in his review that Lacombe growers were not potato conscious. He stated also that machinery in this locality was inadequate for the growth of sufficient potatoes to supply markets. All reports promise that 1948 will be a big year for growers of high grade seed.

In conclusion, J. Eaglesham represented the department of agriculture in a discussion.

Native of Wales, Contractor Dies

LACOMBE—The death of Edwin Harry Jenkins, occurred at his home here Monday. He was 85 years old. Mr. Jenkins was born in Cardiff, Wales, was married to Anna Light 64 years ago, and came to the Canyon district, southeast of Lacombe in 1902. He worked as a contractor in Lacombe for many years and helped construct the Royal Bank, Adelphi Hotel and many other buildings here. He retired to Lacombe 10 years ago.

A Masonic feneral was held in the Anglican church Thursday with the Rev. L. W. G. Hudson officiating.

Modern Miners Enjoy Comforts In Getting Gold

FORT ST. JOHN—It was a splendid job of prospecting Ray Sandy, druggist of Fort St. John and Cecil Cottam of Hudson Hope did, as compared with the old days when Ray was locating around Stewart, B.C. and Cecil was in the Kirkland Lake area. Loading up a sedan recently with feathery eiderdown sleeping bags, a portable stove, tinned food of variety that would make a Waldorf chef smile, they whizzed along the wide, smooth highway at 50 miles per hour to a ready-made camp, one filled with construction workers employed by Campbell Construction of Toronto during the Alaska Highway construction.

The pair wildcatted over the ground and around it, found the original cuts of the original company, dug through three feet of snow to plant their stakes, spent five days, and brought back some grab samples that are being sent to Nelson, B.C., for assay. The property is within a half mile of a good camp where the pair were made comfortable and warm. A creek runs through the property and by the camp, which was not frozen up.

Mundare Mayoralty Remains Unfilled

MILLET—In civic election here this week, two town councillors were elected. They were John Sachkiw and John Swekla. The mayority was left vacant due to the resignation of Dr. N. C. Strilchuk and a meeting of the councillors will decide who is to be Mundare's new mayor. In the school board elections, D. Slobodian, I. Hawryluk and J. Winnicki were elected. Mr. Slobodian retains his post as chairman of the board.

Westlock Library Open Twice Weekly

WESTLOCK—Recent reorganization of the Westlock community library has brought the enterprise where, through volunteer workers, it is open twice weekly and has a stock of books catalogued at a level comparable with the best of urban libraries.

The library, which was founded through public subscription and support, is proving a well-patronized centre in the village.

Turkey Losses

BASHAW—Many farmers are losing turkeys around here due to owls, which have been raking havoc with the birds. One farmer lost eleven turkeys and many others have lost turkeys as well as ducks

Rocky Mountain Bridge Built After 40 Years

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE—A new bridge over the North Saskatchewan river here will be officially opened next Wednesday and residents plan to make it a celebration long to be remembered. They have waited for this bridge for more than 40 years. It it will be the only traffic bridge across the North Saskatchewan, one of Canada's major rivers, between the one on the Banff-Jasper highway and those at Edmonton.

A MEETING was held this week to make plans for the opening ceremony. The day will be proclaimed a civic holiday and a delegation from Red Deer has offered assistance in making the day a success.

Both local men and visitors from Red Deer have stressed the vital importance of the bridge to the town and surrounding district, and as an important link in the David Thompson highway, which will run 118 miles west from Rocky to join the Banff-Jasper highway at the Saskatchewan bungalow cabins. This highway, now passable for passenger cars, will make a loop from Edmonton and north through Red Deed and Rocky Mountain House to the Banff-Jasper road, then north and home through Jasper; or from Calgary the same and south on the Banff-Jasper road to Lake Louise and Jasper.

COMMITTEES were appointed to make plans for the celebration program, C. I. Edwards, J. N. Cony, C. Brierley, W. Fisher and J. McQueen from Red Deer; social and entertainment, S. G. Hooker, C. Bruce, A. L. Urch, F. Spoor and Harold Killick; publicity, W. H. Schierholtz, J. B. Killick, E. Rosa and Cameron Kirby of Red Deer; finance, W. Teakey; transportation, Gordon Sorensen of Red Deer.

Invitations are being sent throughout the province and two busses will come down from Edmonton and two from Calgary for the day.

The plan now is that the opening ceremony will be at 2:30 p.m. and as soon as the ribbon is cut, the first car will be driven over the bridge by Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary and member for this constituency.

Banquet will be held in the hall in the evening, with addresses by Mr. Hooke and other prominent citizens of the province.

Opening of this bridge is an important event for this district, as Rocky Mountain House serves a community 20 miles to the north, 20 miles to the east, 50 to the south and west. Settlers began homesteading across the river in 1906 and they had to ford the river, using the old ford that Indians and traders had used for more than 200 years. In 1909 the first ferry went into operation, but every spring and fall there was the inbetween season, when the ice was too soft for traffic, but not hard enough to drive over, or not all gone so the ferry could run. Several winters the river never did freeze solid and the ferry ran most of the time.

For 40 years, every organization in town and district has been petitioning various governments to build this bridge and at last their dreams have come true.

Home-School Meet At Olds In April

OLDS—April 16, 17 and 18 will see the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations in convention at the Olds School of Agriculture. The president, G. F. Bruce of Edmonton, will preside for the first time since taking office, and all sessions will be open to the public.

A special feature, new in this province, is planned for Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon, when the entire convention will resolve itself into a parents' institute under the direction of Dr. S. R. Laycock, psychologist, educationalist and lecturer of the University of Saskatchewan, who was recently elected president of the Canadian Federation of Home and School.

A banquet, Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. will also high-light the conference when the guest speaker will be Dr. Frank S. Morley, minister of Grace Presbyterian church, Calgary.

Mining Men Headed North From Nelson

FORT ST. JOHN—Several mining men have flown into Nelson and proceeded north by bus and by car to Muncho Lake, four miles from the new gold strike. Accommodation of sorts may be obtained there. Numerous buildings are empty, left by construction workers which might be converted in short order. One couple runs a first class restaurant, and the Lake is the fuel depot for cars between Nelson and Watson Lake.

"I hope your father won't object my suit."

"Why should he? He wears one almost as bad."

Conduct Series

THREE HILLS—Douglas Thornton, Calgary, educational director for the United Farmers of Alberta, will hold a series of meetings beginning Feb. 25 at Three Hills. He will also visit Elnora and Rumley. Moving pictures will be shown in conjunction with Mr. Thornton's lecturers.

Attendance 100 At Trade Board Meet in North

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

GRANDE PRAIRIE. — Annual banquet and business meeting of the Grande Prairie Board of Trade was held in Speke hall, with several guests of honor from Edmonton among the 100 men and women present. They were J. A. McArthur, general manager of the NAR; W. A. Thompson, Reg. T. Rose, T Dickson, George Hayward and P P. Griffiths, all of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, and Ted Field, pioneer in North Country aviation and now CPA superintendent at Whitehorse.

A WELCOME was extended to the guests by Deputy Mayor M. Bowacker, of Grande Prairie, and by Vice-President P. J. Tooley of the Board of Trade.

Mr. Tooley stressed Grande Prairie's "remarkable development" in 1945, which included new street lighting, paving, cement sidewalks and storm sewers. Because of a rapidly growing population due to military personnel, the Alaska Highway, and coal and oil development, the acute housing shortage here was hindering further development. He called for the rapid completion of the Peace River outlet to the Pacific coast and the gravelling of the highway to Edmonton. J. O. Patterson, in speaking on transportation, stressed the importance of a paved road connecting Edmonton and the Alaska Highway. Mr. Patterson also referred to the need for a new NAR station in Grande Prairie. J. S. Stranatka, district agriculturist, declared that if soil exploitation was to be combatted successfully, forage crops must be grown here on a large scale.

Mr. Tooley asserted that the Grande Prairie airport is now recognized as one of Canada's major airports, adding that CPA is now connected with United States and Canada transcontinental lines. Mr. MacArthur gave a review of NAR accomplishments during 1945, with highlights on the heavy rail which now extends to McLennan, improved ballasting, drainage, and the addition of two standard sleepers. Mr. Rose, secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, remarked on the "tremendous responsibility" which rests on Chambers of Commerce. With more than 1,000 boards in Canada, the result of their combined views could have far-reaching results, he said.

Mr. Thomson, past president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, spoke of the chamber convention he attended in Denmark in 1939 and said he believed that if world problems today are to be solved, a World Chamber of Commerce, patterned on that of Denmark's must be formed.

Other speakers were Mr. Dickson, chairman of rehabilitation and finance; George Hayward, whose topic was lumber and building interests, and P. P. Griffiths, who spoke on implements and machinery. Following is the 1946 executive of the Grande Prairie board of trade: President, W. J. Fleming, manager of the local Royal Bank of Canada; vice-president, P. J. Tooley; secretary-treasurer, H. B. George.

Club Speaker

DR. W. H. SWIFT

School Official Addresses Club

Members of the Lions club Thursday heard Dr. W. H. Swift tell them about the school situation of the province and the problems behind the teacher shortage.

THE PROVINCIAL SCHOOL superintendent paid tribute to the teachers that had carried out the work of instruction during the wartime years, adding that their task has not always been fully understood.

In his talk, "Let There Be Schools," Dr. Swift reminded the Lions that the teacher shortage was mainly due to the present salary schedules. Stricter teaching qualifications plus higher salaries would work toward a solution of the problem.

Arthur Young, president, was chairman of the meeting.

University to Aid World Fund Drive

Eldon Foote has been appointed director of the University of Alberta's part in the World Student Relief Drive. The drive for funds will take place on the campus between March 4 and 9.

Three international student cooperative organizations, with headquarters at Geneva, the World Student Christian Federation (Protestant), Pax Romana (Roman Catholic) and the International Student Service, are combining efforts to raise money to buy food, medical supplies, clothing and books for students and professors in Europe and Asia.

Alberta students hope to raise approximately one-fifth of Canada's quota of $50,000.

The committee assisting Mr. Foote includes Dr. E. W. Sheldon, Prof. E. J. H. Greene, Mr. J. E. Gander, faculty representatives, Don Wells, secretary of the U of A. drive, George Ford, ESS representatives, and Lawrie Joslin, Gateway representative.

City Skaters Enter Banff Competitions

Eight members of Westmount Skating Club will travel to Banff to compete in the Alberta outdoor speed skating championships to be held there on Feb. 15 and 16. Skaters from points throughout Canada and the United States are expected to take part in the competitions.

THREE EDMONTONIANS to take part in the senior men's class are Jim Wood, Don Hamlin and Don Harris. Bill Kories, who holds the Saskatchewan 440 record, will compete in the intermediate men's class. Jack Kinnear, holder of the Saskatchewan juvenile championship, and Roy Kinnear, are the other two skaters who will endeavor to bring the titles to this city.

The two girls taking part in the events are Pat Gunn, Saskatchewan intermediate girls' champion, and Nola McKenzie, runner-up for the Saskatchewan junior girls' championship.

J. S. Clare, secretary of the Alberta Amateur Speed-Skating Association, will accompany the skaters on the trip.

Just recently this same club competed in the Saskatchewan competitions, hence so many of that province's titles.

Blaze in SA Plant Soon Extinguished

Prompt work by members of the city fire department brought a fire under control before it could do any major damage to the Salvation Army industrial plant on 98 street and 102 avenue. The blaze broke out in a pile of rags along the north side of the centre section of the premises. Alarm was turned in at 11:20 p.m. Thursday. All fire equipment from No. 2 hall responded and three lines of hose were laid under the direction of Fire Chief James Macgregor. Fire was confined to the pile of rags but some water and smoke damage was caused to the building.

Where to Concentrate

In a statement to the press, Hon. C. D. Howe said the houses being built now by private contractors in Canada average in cost about $8,000 each. If this is correct, and the Minister is in position to know, the house-building industry is not supplying the type of house that is urgently needed.

Four-fifths of the people of Canada cannot afford to live in an $8,000 house. They can't pay the rent that construction cost calls for, and they could not buy such a house however easy the terms. They just couldn't meet the interest and principal instalments on the purchase price.

It is quite possible that construction firms can keep busy, and make money, putting up houses of this type for well-to-do people. But building them is not solving the national housing problem. It is even making that problem more difficult of solution, by diverting labor and materials from the greater need to the lesser.

To make houses available to people of moderate incomes the sale price will have to be about half the figure stated. These prospective buyers and renters include returned servicemen, to whom the country owes living accommodation at rentals and buying prices within their reach.

If private investors cannot erect such houses, the need will have to be met by government-building, or by subsidizing private house-building. Wartime Housing is putting up houses at the $4,000 figure, but not in sufficient numbers to promise any rapid headway in overtaking the shortage.

There apparently is no way to switch the construction industry generally to the building of these moderate-priced houses except to put houses sufficient to make the business attractive. In normal conditions, to pay subsidies is to exploit the taxpayers for the benefit of favored individuals. But the housing situation is an emergency condition, and subsidizing the kind of building that is needed seems to be the only way to deal with it effectively.

So emergent is this situation that it is permissable to raise the question of whether any person should be allowed next summer to absorb labor and materials in the erection of a deluxe residential establishment for personal use.

It is time, too, to clamp down tight on the export of lumber and other building materials from Canada, to whatever extent this may be necessary to ensure ample supplies for all the moderate-priced houses that can be built.

It Hinges on Production

Mr. Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, says we will be headed for trouble after a while unless private spending increases as government spending falls off. He doesn't put it just that way. A banker wouldn't. But that is what it boils down to.

And, put in these simple terms, the truth is readily enough apparent. In wartime the national government was doing so much spending that individuals couldn't do a great deal if they wanted to. Taxes and bonds absorbed surplus earnings and left most people only enough to buy necessaries. They couldn't go in for luxuries even if these had been available—which they were not.

This is the reverse of normal peacetime conditions, when a government collects and spends only a small fraction of the national income, and private citizens do the really heavy spending. We are now getting into the transition stage and government outlays are being tapered off.

Mr. Towers does not say that private spending will likely fail to expand, and industrial activity slow down in consequence; he only says the trouble will come if private spending should fail. There is not much danger of that. While private citizens were piling up savings in war bonds they were also piling up inventories of things they wanted but could not get at the time.

This stored-up demand will come into the market readily enough—provided there is production of the things wanted. Otherwise of course it won't and can't. Should private spending lag this will not be because the will is absent, but because the wanted goods are not being produced and placed on the store shelves. That is where the danger of restricted spending lies, if and in so far as there is any danger. If the goods are produced they will be bought.

In for More Losses

The Ford plant at Windsor has closed down, for lack of steel, and the 10,000 employees who were idle during the three-month strike are idle again. Only about half of them had been taken back in the meantime. The others have been without wages for about five months.

The employees are not of course the only losers and prospective losers. The shareholders in the company are out and will be out the dividends they would have received had production been carried on without interruption. The business of the community was hard hit by the loss of trade during the strike, and will be hit again by the present tie-up. The public lost the use of cars and trucks which might have been produced, and will lose again while the present stoppage continues.

When all is said—and a good deal can be said—for the right of men to quit work, the fact remains plain that a strike is a terribly costly way to settle a labor dispute.

In the Windsor case, continued operation last fall would not have prevented the present shut-down. But had the strike not occurred, all parties would now be in better position to stand the strain of another period of no-wages, no-dividends, no-output, and heavily curtailed local business. If the steel deadlock runs along for weeks, some merchants in Windsor will likely go bankrupt, and many Ford employees are likely to be so far in debt they will have a long hard grind to get back where they were financially six months ago.

Police in an Ontario town are wondering why somebody stole a 900 pound tombstone. Well, there's nothing like being prepared.

Of 497 passengers and crew-members on the wrecked liner Yukon, all but eleven were saved. The circumstances considered, the percentage of losses was remarkably small. There must have been efficient as well as courageous efforts on the part of the crews of the rescue vessels and the other transports.

The Security Council rejected the Soviet-sponsored motion that it investigate the causes and results of the presence of British troops in Java, Russia and Poland voted for the motion, the other nine members against it. All the motion accomplished was to divert attention from the presence of Russian troops in Azerbaijan. That may or may not have been the purpose.

Hon. J. G. Gardiner, who usually knows his facts on farm subjects, throws new light on the question of increasing hog production. As all wheat is now needed for human consumption, he says, "Feed statistics clearly indicate that no more hogs could be fed in Canada, no matter what the returns". In which case it is useless to talk about increasing the hog population until another feed crop is grown.

German prisoners of war are leaving Alberta camps in train-loads, en route to Britain, and eventually Germany. They are not being given any send-offs, of course, at places along the railway lines. But, more significant, neither are there popular demonstrations of hostility. Canadians are not good haters, and the prisoners have not, on the whole, given them any reasons to show bitterness.

Now that he is no longer the national hero, and is to be hanged anyway, a Tokyo newspaper says Yamashita's trial disclosed to the Japanese people acts of cruelty "which defy their eyes and ears". This rather suggests that, since he cannot be saved from the gallows, Yamashita is to be made a scape-goat. The notion that the crime records now being spread before Allied courts are both surprising and shocking to Japanese civilians is due for heavy discount. They aren't that dumb.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1886: 60 Years Ago

Thos. Edmundson had his face cut and two teeth knocked out in a tobogganing accident on Tuesday evening.

A free fight occurred at the Long Lake hotel on Saturday night of last week, in which a number of St. Albert people were engaged. Cause—whisky. Results—several bad cuts and bruises, distributed with great impartiality.

On Friday of last week as a brother belonging to St. Albert's mission was crossing Kelly's bridge on the Sturgeon river with a load of coal from Egg Lake creek, the bridge collapsed, letting horses, sleigh, load and man suddenly down to the ice, a distance of about 10 feet.

1896: 50 Years Ago

W. Johnstone Walker has had the Mansion House fitted with new shelving and an additional counter put in.

Alex. Taylor, government meteorological observer here, reports that last night's wind was the highest ever recorded here. For five minutes at 8:35 it blew 50 miles per hour. The highest wind previously recorded was 32 miles an hour in 1886. Mr. Taylor says that the records show that this country is becoming more windy year by year.

Why the United States?

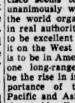
Finding a Home for UNO

San Francisco Seems to Be Only American City Which Would Welcome World Organization But Good Case Could Be Made Out for Vienna's Historic Grandeur

By Dorothy Thompson

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

SAN FRANCISCO—San Francisco seems to be one city that unanimously wants UNO. And if the world organization is to grow in real stature there would seem to be excellent reasons for locating it on the West coast, if its location is to be in America at all. Probably one long-range development will be the rise in importance of the Pacific and Asiatic world. Eastward, the course of empire appears to be taking its way, and for America eastward is westward.



Dorothy Thompson

The opposition of New York and Connecticut citizens is justified. The area is the most densely populated in the country with extremely high real estate values. It is also a centre of nationality groups, particularly of later immigrants, and the hub of their publicity and pressure organizations. Undoubtedly they will tie in with UNO in any case, but from New York they could exercise the highest pressure, as it is also the most influential publishing and radio centre.

Yet New York is, perhaps, one of the less representative parts of the United States. Certainly, if we hope that UNO delegates will engage their comprehension of America, it would be better to have them almost anywhere else. Any city of under a million would be more representative of the authentic mind of America. New York publishes most of our books, is the centre of newspaper syndicates and radio networks, and, through the electoral college system plays an important role in the election of presidents. But it is a long time since it has given us our most eminent writers, philosophers, or social scientists. It is the most European part of the country, but America is not European, and it would be a mistake to create the illusion that it is.

SAN FRANCISCO is a city of well under a million; has a temperate climate; is high in material amenities; the surrounding country is of surpassing beauty; and it has a long, indigenous Oriental-tinged cosmopolitanism on a solidly American foundation. Also it is far enough from Washington to encourage UNO to greater life of its own.

The east coast seems to be folding as a UNO centre. Boston is not apparently, acceptable to the Soviet Union. One group says there is not enough free speech; there—remembering periodic bannings of books—and another says there is too much free speech, especially on the subject of what the strong Catholic population thinks of the Soviet Union.

But what considerations prompted placing UNO in the United States at all? It would seem better to put it in a small country, Switzerland is out. As the graveyard of the League of Nations, I believe, the Swiss do not want it, nor does the Soviet Union want it in Switzerland.

THE DOUBTS of small nations are that UNO is, in its present structure, hardly more than a concert of great powers. To house it in the territory of one of them is dubious from two viewpoints: its actual exercise undue influence, or it is bound to be a centre of espionage and intrigue, to which the U.S. is peculiarly vulnerable. That may be a reason why the Soviet Union did not bid for it, preferring a splendid isolationism of its own territories.

But at one time there were overtures from the Soviets to place it in Vienna, and I wonder why that proposal evaporated.

Vienna and Austria are at the junction between the Western and Eastern European worlds. Neither after the last war nor after this one was any solution found for Austria. The Anschluss was and is opposed because it would strengthen Germany. Any sort of Danubian federation including Austria is out, since the other east European states have fallen into the power orbit of the Soviets and the agencies toward the German-speaking populations, whether Austrian or German, are deepening the rifts. The Western countries and the powers do not wish the Soviet power bloc to include more of historic Europe than it already does. That leaves Austria hanging in midair.

YET, VIENNA, ILL IS a once great imperial capital. It has a famous opera, excellent hoteliers and caterers, and a cosmopolitan cuisine, combining the central European Slavic, and Mediterranean. Its people, whatever their language, are of mixed nationality. It has, immediately outside the city, empty imperial palaces. Within an hour's ride are beautiful mountain resorts. Austria contains some of Europe's most famous spas; every inch of the minuscular country is surpassingly beautiful with superb mountain lakes, lovely rivers, and chains of lakes. And everywhere there are excellent inns.

It never has been a "nation". It was the centre of the last supranational state before the last war. It has a curiously taming influence on national prides and animosities. Vienna, with a District of Columbia of Austria itself, situated at the junction of Russia and the West, on the Eurasian mainland, would seem, therefore, a much more appropriate place than any great power—and its fate is in the hands of the Great Powers.

One wonders why the original Soviet suggestion was rejected.

Some Objections Are Raised—

Melting the North Pole

Climatic Advantages Are Said to Be Cancelled by Probable Disappearance of Several Countries and States

J. H. G.

in The Winnipeg Free Press

The more we see of the arrant be selfishness of certain people in certain places the less faith we can muster that the human race will survive.

This descent into melancholia is precipitated by the assertion in New York by Professor Julian Huxley's entrancing proposal to melt the polar ice caps by atomic bombs. The effect of this on northern-ers would be wonderful. It would give Western Canada a Winter somewhat akin to Florida, though it might have made the summers hotter. This, however, could have been overcome by the giant atomical-ly operated Arctic cooling system.

THERE DEVELOPS, now, a small matter of little consequence.

While the Arctic ice cap has been receding slowly, there are still several million miles of ice cubes some hundreds, even thousands of feet deep. If these ice cubes were melted it would raise the level of the sea and ocean by an estimated 100 feet. If both north and south ice caps were melted a rise in the oceans would be about 160 feet.

One effect of the melting would be to flood out the City of New York. The Atlantic Coast line, and the gulf coast line, and the Hudson's Bay coast line. The crowded island of Britain would become more so. Holland would no longer have to worry about the Zuyder Zee because there would be no more Holland.

THESE, AT FIRST glance, seem defects of the proposed plan. But it will be seen by any objective observer that they are really of small consideration. There would be room, in the Canadian Northwest, for 200,000,000 people. We could absorb all the refugees from New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington around the shores of Great Bear Lake. People could then stop talking about our great undeveloped store of natural resources and get on with the business of using it if we had any.

But the crass selfishness of the people of New York and other Atlantic Coast cities will prevent this great experiment ever being made. Only last week, the science editor of the New York Times, in his usual urbane and erudite manner, started throwing dead cats at the Huxley Plan. There will follow, inevitably, the organization of a People's Committee to Save New York. There will be full page advertisements in the Times over the signatures of all the best heart-bleeders demanding action to outlaw Julian Huxley.

THE NEW YORK NEWS will try to use Professor Huxley as a tour-nique for twisting the British Bon's tail out of its socket. Mayor Hague of Jersey City will immediately put 20,000 party followers to work building dikes and arks. There will

The Case for the Trolley Bus

OTTAWA JOURNAL

As the people of Ottawa are to consider this year the future of local transportation—a question involved in the Mayor's proposal that the city buy the Ottawa Electric Railway system—we hope no one missed the half-page advertisement of Canadian General Electric in The Journal of Tuesday featuring the electric trolley coach.

The trolley bus runs by electric power which it derives from an overhead wire, as the street car does, but unlike the tram it does not run on rails. This means, as the advertisement points out, that it is quiet on rubber tires, that it loads and unloads at the curb without blocking other traffic, that it seems to combine many of the best points of the tram and the ordinary bus, and its use would eliminate much of the noise which complaques streets where the trams run on their steel rails.

The trolley bus is definitely beyond the experimental stage and is giving good service in many cities —Edmonton, for example, has a fleet of them and finds them very satisfactory. It may be that the trolley bus is destined to replace the tram, and certainly that is a point the street railway committee should look into very closely in its studies this year. Street cars have served Ottawa faithfully for more than half a century, but that does not mean that we should cling to something better is available; something much quieter and less productive of other traffic.

The task confronting the street railway committee is not a light one. It has to decide in the first place whether or not it should recommend purchase of the OER and order a referendum of the ratepayers. But if the people were to vote intelligently in those circumstances they would need to know not merely the price being paid the OER but the cost of rehabilitating the system and expanding it to meet present needs, and whether by more and better street cars, by trolley buses, by larger fleets of gasoline buses, or by a combination of two or th. ..

Ex-Ambassador Analyzes Portuguese Regime—

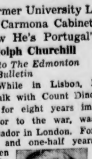
Today in Europe

Salazar, Former University Law Professor, Once Refused to Enter the Carmona Cabinet Except on His Own Terms; Now He's Portugal's Beneficent Dictator

By Randolph Churchill

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MADRID.—While in Lisbon, I had a long talk with Count Dino Grandi who, for eight years immediately prior to the war, was Italian ambassador in London. For the last two and one-half years Grandi has been living in the tiny village of Estoril and has had much opportunity to observe the political conditions in Portugal.



CHURCHILL

He told me he thought Premier Salazar's extraordinary political success was due to the fact that he realized that politically immature people like the Portuguese attach far more importance to small liberties than to great ones. Salazar, while denying the country political liberty, has not abused his power by interfering with the private lives and private liberties of the population.

There are many countries of which it may be said that everything is forbidden unless it is specifically allowed. Portugal is not one of these. Salazar has meticulous regard for legality and, though he undoubtedly is served by an extremely efficient police force, they are not allowed to exceed their authority or to take arbitrary action beyond the scope of the laws. Equally the courts administer justice based on well-established law. There are no "people's courts" where the government can obtain whatever verdict it chooses by whipping up the mob against those whom the government happens to dislike.

SALAZAR TODAY IS 56. Sprung from peasant stock, he was, before entering politics, a professor of law at Coimbra, the third oldest university in Europe. When General Carmona, who is now president of the Portuguese republic, seized control of the government and restored law and order in 1926, he sent for Salazar, who was widely admired by Portugal's younger intellectuals. Salazar was invited to become minister of finance. He said he would do so only if he was given authority to order various economies in the different government departments. Permanent officials dug their toes in and Carmona was unable to give the pledge which Salazar desired, so Salazar returned to Coimbra and resumed his work as professor of law.

A few months later, however, he was sent for again and was given the job on his own terms. He rapidly showed that he possessed qualities and talents shared by no one else and he speedily established himself as the undisputed master of Portugal.

SALAZAR'S GRAVEST DEFECT is that he likes to run everything himself, down to the smallest detail. His ministers are scarcely more than office boys. As a result, many able men whom he would like to have in his government are unwilling to serve. This is not only a weakness at the present time but is storing up trouble for Portugal in the future. It is almost impossible to think of anyone who could take Salazar's place.

Many stories are told about his eye for detail. Some time ago, he had to give an official banquet. Being a bachelor, he entrusted all the arrangements to the wives of two Foreign Office officials. Ten minutes before the banquet was due to start, he came to inspect the dining room. The two ladies asked what he thought of the table setting. Salazar expressed himself as delighted, but in such a way that they knew something was wrong. Pressed to say what was the matter, he eventually said, "except that you've got the tablecloth on upside down."

Whatever one may think of the Portuguese system of government one can only wish, after meeting Salazar, that every other country was governed by so efficient, enlightened, upright and humane a ruler as he.

This'n That

The young husband had just arrived at work from the office.

"What's the matter, darling?" he asked. "You look flustered."

"I've had a dreadful day," his wife answered. "First baby cut his first tooth, then he took his temperature and then he fell and knocked out his tooth."

"Well, and then what happened?" asked her husband.

"Nothing," she answered in a shocked voice, "he said his first word!"

Hog Production

Editor, The Bulletin: In your editorial in Saturday's paper you say farmers should seriously consider the falling off in hog production. If they do so I am afraid they will produce fewer instead of more hogs. Take a married farmer engaged in hog raising whose net income is $1200 or less—he pays no income tax. Let him raise as many more hogs as will bring his net income up to, say, $1700. He then has a taxable income of $500 and the income tax collector takes $150 flat tax and $150 additional (sometime) tax leaving him only $200 for his extra feed and work. If the federal government wants more hogs (and I doubt) they will have to increase the tax exemption to at least $2000.

Repatriation of Wives

Editor, Bulletin: Isn't it about time that something was done to straighten out this farce the government is pursuing in regard to the repatriation of the British wives of Canadian servicemen?

I can quote my own case as an example of what is going on. I was repatriated in August 1945, and received my discharge in September.

In December my wife was notified her priority was sufficiently high for her to fly to Canada (at a cost of $400), which was absolutely out of the question, so she had to stay. About a month ago I wrote Ottawa asking for assistance, asking if they could possibly give me an even approximate date of my wife's arrival by boat. In reply, I received a very haughty answer, without the slightest hint as to her arrival.

Yet, in December, a well-public RCAF officer attempted to have his wife flown out, but she refused the necessary priority. But, who should be arriving in Canada on Sunday but this fellow's wife, on the Mauretania.

What kind of equality is this supposed to be? The government has created a great amount of discontent, and if one tries to get anything done, you're just out of luck. There wasn't any favoritism when we were fighting for victory, but now, if you know the right people, you can get anything done.

The Department of National Defence tells us, "Play ball with us and we'll play ball with you." But, as usual, we're getting the bat shoved down our throats.

Yours for fair play and shoveboard policies. FED-UP-VET.

Another Angle

Editor, Bulletin: I think the time has come to call Mr. J. E. Rochon to task for quite a long time now he has been peddling Social Credit theory mixed up with a lot of pure demagogy, or in other words a lot of high sounding mouthings which means nothing when you are away off a true economic base. His latest screech is giving advice about strikes which appeared in yours of the 31st ultimo in a case in point, just what labor does not know what they are doing.

Let me tell Mr. N. that the high cost of living has nothing to do with high wages. When the war started credits had to be released because we had to carry on the fight—which in turn made more and more medium of exchange very cheap; there is lots of it, cheap money for goods of no value to it, but a well known fact to every one except perhaps Mr. N. that wages, also farm prices, are always the last to follow suit—or in other words as prices of finished commodities go up on account of cheap money labor and farmers have to keep asking for more purchasing power in order to live. If they did not their standard of living would be lowered and finally they would be too weak to produce at all.

If Mr. N. wished to purchase a horse when he has a good bank full of money, and the owner asked $100 for it Mr. N. would buy without a murmur, but if he looked and felt like it did in the hungry 30's he would bargain to get it cheaper. Labor is doing exactly the same in the way with all purchases; as I said before, dear money, cheap goods.

Those of us who purchase labor power have to pay what we can profit bargain as hard as we can, because higher labor costs come out of our profits. It cannot be added to the price of the finished commodity because there is another economic law which governs that, but Mr. N. would not be interested in that law—it would do away with his pet peeve, he would not have any grounds left for his SC theorum (heavy on the rum Mr. printer).

If higher wages and higher farm prices could be added to the finished commodity there would not be any strikes because rather than lose profits and fight labor and farmers, those who lay the golden egg, the higher cost would be passed on up the hours for sane thinking Mr. Nichols.

Dairy Farmers' Labor Problems Held Serious

With farm labor free to set its own price for its services, while the price of dairy products has been set by the WPTB, the lot of the dairy farmer has been made difficult, stated R. H. M. Bailey, Clover Bar, president of the Dairy Farmers of Canada, in an address Thursday to the final session of the Alberta Dairymen's three-day convention.

HE NOTED, HOWEVER that if the price control had not been set up the price of dairy products would have soared. Also, many of the dairy farmers had accepted this "sacrifice" for five years and although they had no desire to restrict labor there was need of serious consideration in the problem that it posed at the present time.

"We wonder if labor has ever considered the effect on the cost of living that would obtain if dairy farms were operated on a union wage scale or a minimum wage, say, of 50 cents an hour," Mr. Bailey commented.

He then quoted statistics which indicated that in general the production of butterfat was done by what he termed "unpaid family labor."

BOTH LABOR PEOPLE and farm people are consumers under one national roof and neither must take advantage of the other if we are to have a balanced economy, he counselled.

"Labor leaders must realize that young men are being driven off farms by reason of their parents not being able to pay them wages. They continually ask this question —Why should a man on a dairy farm have to work almost twice as long as the man working in industry for less returns?" said Mr. Bailey.

Our organization feels that they must take some definite steps in regard to the question of butterfat and the price that is paid for it, particularly at this time when the whole question of labor and labor cost of almost every commodity is to the fore, said the president of the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

HE SAID THE MILK used in production of butterfat constituted approximately 30 per cent of the milk produced in Canada, and at a price that did not allow a labor charge.

Canada before the war was absorbed in trying to solve the problem of finding an export market for surpluses, he said.

"History of course proves there never has been a surplus of butter in Canada worth mentioning, and it is my opinion that condition will not change in a country such as Canada where cattle have to be fed so many months of the year," said Mr. Bailey.

HE POINTED TO Canada's unfavorable position in trying to compete with a country like New Zealand which has green pasturage the year around. With this in view, Canada's home market should be considered insofar as butterfat was concerned, he contended.

He said the Dairy Farmers of Canada had solved the question of "full employment" but the problem was to find pay for it.

"A prominent dairyman in the west said to me, 'If you pay enough for butterfat so that it becomes a profitable industry you will have so much butterfat that you won't find a market for it—what an indictment of the dairy farm producing milk for butterfat purposes," he charged.

"And what an indictment of an organization that will permit it," he added.

HE NOTED THE TIMES were changing, and he said that every move was toward the improvement of national and international life.

"We expect the dairy farmers of Canada to assume their full responsibility for the dairy industry of Canada, which represents so considerable a proportion of the national income," said Mr. Bailey.

He concluded by saying that Canada is now taking her place among the great nations of the world, and that with an increased population to feed, a greater home market, and through the food and agricultural organization a greater world market.

"Let us prepare to meet these new responsibilities," he said.

J. B. Ritchie, Clover Bar, president of the Alberta Dairymen's Association, was chairman.

IN THE EVENING, following three days of heavy deliberations on problems dealt with at the many section meetings and lectures, close to 500 delegates and their friends wound up the silver jubilee convention with a banquet and dance. Among guests at the head table were:

Hon. D. B. MacMillan, provincial minister of agriculture, and Mrs. MacMillan; His Worship Mayor Harry D. Ainlay and Mrs. Ainlay; R. H. M. Bailey, president, dairy farmers of Canada, and Mrs. Bailey; O. S. Longman, deputy minister of agriculture, and Mrs. Longman; C. D. Jacox, president, Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Jacox.

Guests of honor: Dr. G. H. Wilster, professor of dairy manufacturing, Oregon State College; D. M. Beatlie, department of agriculture, Ottawa; D. E. MacKenzie, dairy commissioner for Manitoba.

D. H. MacCALLUM, provincial dairy commissioner, and Mrs. MacCallum; Mrs. J. Russell Love, chairman, ladies' convention committee; Mrs. W. L. Jacox; W. F. Empey, general chairman convention committee, and Mrs. Empey.

Dr. H. R. Thornton, toastmaster, and Mrs. Thornton; Percy Reed, Regina, Saskatchewan dairy commissioner; R. G. Smellie, Russell, Man., president of the National Dairy Council; Dr. E. G. Hood, Ottawa, chief of dairy research, science division, department of agriculture; W. L. Perley, Calmar, president elect; J. B. Ritchie, South Edmonton, immediate past president; T. J. Hicks, Ottawa, senior dairy produce grader for eastern provinces.

Entertainment was provided by Frank Herman, The Scotch Trio and Three Lads and a Lass. Community singing was led by G. Lyall Roper. A dance followed.

To Seek Larger Grant For Schools

The provincial government will be urged to pay a much larger percentage of the total costs of education in Alberta at a general public meeting to be held in Garneau school auditorium next Monday evening. The meeting starts at 8 o'clock.

REPRESENTATIVES from city organizations and officials of the Edmonton Public School board are expected to attend.

It was learned that members of the Edmonton school board will introduce a resolution calling on the Alberta government to contribute 50 per cent of the total costs of education, as is done in the provinces of Ontario and British Columbia.

IN ALBERTA at present the province contributes about six per cent of the total cost of education with cities and municipalities paying the balance.

Monday's meeting is being held as a result of a meeting of organizations and members of the school board Wednesday in the Civic Block.

The group met for the purpose of organizing meetings and acquiring speakers to arouse greater public interest in education.

School Trustee Mrs. E. S. Haynes presided at the meeting.

Modern, Lower-Priced Homes Offer Last Word In Up-to-Date Housing

By BERT NIGHTINGALE

Under the painstaking supervision of experts in every phase of lower priced housing, 14 model homes, designed to please busy-housewives and their hard-working, fireside-loving husbands, are currently attracting expressions of admiration from visitors and nearby residents of Mill Creek Boulevard, between 97 and 98 streets on Whyte avenue, South Edmonton.

THE BUNGALOWS, all in the lower sales price bracket, have been placed on the housing market by Nu-West Homes, Ltd., in an effort to show Mr. and Mrs. Edmonton what they can do with their money under the National Housing Act.

Taking the slogan, "Homes for Working People," the Nu-West company, a new organization in this city's housing field, has erected a group of bungalows each of which provides literally the last word in up-to-date family accommodation, combining the practical requirements of comfortable living quarters and the modern features which add up to a home life free of the petty inconveniences and discomforts noted in older houses. Nu-West has rallied to the side of the family with little cash.

HERE'S HOW Nu-West, in its arrangement, functions:

A low down payment will give the purchaser title to a Nu-West home. The bulk of the payment is spread over a long term, at roughly $25 per month, plus taxes and insurance.

Al Mowbray, sales manager, explained during an interview this week, that "these monthly payments go into your own home. Compare this with the case of a man who told me recently he had been renting a house for 17 years, had paid in that time over $7,000 and was no farther ahead than when he first moved into the place."

THE 14 NEW houses which are open to public inspection at the present time, are located less than two blocks from the electrobus—within 10 transportation minutes of the downtown section of the city. A shopping centre and schools are conveniently located.

Mr. Mowbray declared the best of materials had gone into construction of the houses and they had been insulated with standard insulation material. Various types of frontal elevations had been chosen to avoid a monotonous "sameness" about the area; some will be finished in cedar and plain siding, others in stucco. They face a paved street and a centre, tree-lined boulevard with each lot having a 38½-foot frontage, in every case, 210-pound slate surface shingles were used (heavyweight shingles with a life expectancy of 50 years or more.)

"WE'RE VERY proud of these houses," Mr. Mowbray confessed. Other officials of the contracting firm are Vic Cunningham, construction supervisor; Gordon Clark, managing director; and Henry Plastow, office manager.

Typical of the Mill Creek houses was one which was expected to be completed by the week-end and ready for occupancy Monday. It's a four-room bungalow, an attractive looking small-family home from the outside and a dream home, in every sense of the phrase, on the inside.

A room-by-room description: you enter the front of the bungalow through a roomy vestibule which contains space for coats, a shelf for hats, and a rack for overshoes. There is a French glass door dividing the vestibule from the spacious living room.

THE LIVING ROOM is decorated with pale green walls and white, plaster tapestry ceiling. The room is so planned that furniture is easily switched about to suit the varying or seasonal tastes of the home-owner.

Modern effect is given by the parquet floor—inlaid birch squares, stained and brought to a highly-polished wax finish. Ample floor plugs provide for the use of today's electric fixtures, lamps, radio, etc. Open shelving in one corner "begs" for the display of ornaments or books and there are nooks on each side of the low fireplace for more "bric-a-brac" objects. A large front window, coming within two feet of the floor, gives a pleasing view of the outdoors.

FROM THE living room you enter a central hall, leading to the front and back bedrooms and the bathroom. The front bedroom, boasting plenty of space, is finished in light rose. The floor is parquet, and the cedar-lined clothes closet has, in addition to space for hanging garaments, plenty of shelves for other needs.

Blue, inlaid linoleum covers the floor in the rear bedroom; the purchaser has the option of hardwood floors in this room. The walls are a pale blue, and there is another cedar-lined closet.

The bathroom is white, with inlaid blue linoleum. A pembroke bath, built-in mirrored medicine and shaving cabinets and clever lighting arrangements complete the general view.

IN THE CENTRAL hall are a linen closet, complete with shelves, and a telephone nook.

The kitchen, with its pale yellow wall finish, its white ceiling and black fixture trimming, would delight both the bride and the seasoned housekeeper. The compact features include fluorescent lighting, a build-in, movable ironing board, a built-in breakfast nook which folds into one wall, ample cupboard space, a refuse shelf under the sink designed to keep disposal units out of view, a ventilating shaft to carry away cooking odors from the stove, and a lighted mirror and open shelves over the sink. The utility meter is outside the house.

Slab doors are used throughout. Officials point out that the customer has many options as regards colors and other interior decoration in seeing his home completed.

THE BASEMENT measures 28 feet by 25 feet, with 10-inch concrete walls and a four-inch concrete floor. Front section has been left free of furnace pipes and with its seven foot-plus clearances, lends itself to the construction of rumpus rooms or additional sleeping quarters.

A modern, economical furnace looks after heating the dwelling. The back door opens onto a landing leading both to the basement and up a few steps to the kitchen.

MR. MOWBRAY and his associates believe such a home provides the answer to the needs of the smaller family. This reporter is in complete agreement.

TODAY'S MARKETS

May Rye Shifts Only Moderately

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Brokers went about their grain futures trading today as though they had not heard of the new government wage-price policy.

Despite broad advances in securities, the unrestricted May rye which usually jumps around to the nudge of minor influences, shifted only moderately most of the time although fluctuations were rapid.

The distant deliveries of oats edged to within one cent of the ceiling at times on gains of ¼ cent a bushel, although trading generally was dull.

Wheat, corn and barley closed unchanged at ceilings of 1.80½, 1.18½ and 1.22½; oats unchanged to ¼ cent higher; rye unchanged to 2½ up.

Cash grain:

Wheat—No. 2 hard and No. 2 red, 1.79; No corn sales; no oat sales; barley, nominal, malting 1.24-1.39½; feed 1.10-1.23¼.

Grain close:

Wheat—May, July, Sep., and Dec. all 1.80½.

Corn—May, July and Sep., all 1.18½.

Oats—May 81; July 81; Sep. 79⅞-80; Dec. 80.

Rye—May 2.16⅝-½; July, Sep. and Dec. all 1.44½.

Barley—May, July, Sep., all 1.22½.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—(AP)—Hopes for quick strike settlements in the wake of the administration's new wage-price formula today spurred stock market leaders on a rise of one to around seven points, a number reaching highs since 1931. Dealings, relatively lively during the first hour, soon dwindled and top marks were reduced.

Safety Campaign Planned For June

TORONTO, Feb. 15—(CP)—A Canada-wide traffic safety check will be inaugurated May 15 by police to stem the rising toll of deaths and injuries from automobile accidents, it was announced last night by Thomas H. Carson of Owen Sound, president of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada. The campaign slogan will be "Check your driving, check your car, to help check accidents". An educational program among all police officers will precede the campaign.

Returns Home

Flying Officer E. H. Mercer, RCAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mercer, 9140 149 street, arrived home on Sunday last after 18 months service overseas on operational duties with the South East Asia Command and Ceylon air force. Previous to his enlistment the airman was an engineer student at the University of British Columbia. He now intends to resume his studies at the University of Alberta. One brother, R. A. Mercer, a radar technician with the RCAF, returned home last September after four years overseas in England, North Africa and Italy. A sister, Jean, is in Ottawa with the department of trade and commerce. FO. Mercer attended Garneau public school here and Garneau and Scona high schools.

LONDON STOCKS

LONDON, Feb. 15—(Reuters)—Copper shares attracted most interest on the stock market today although business was dull and the volume small in all fields. Buying interest from the Cape has spread to include selection trust which advanced to 37 shillings.

Tobaccos were firm on the assurance of the British government that no restriction of imports is contemplated at present. On the downward side, textiles eased on reports that Lancaster cotton merchants are apprehensive about the continued difficulty of getting goods for export.

Montreal & Toronto

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Leading issues pushed up in trading up to the final hour today on the stock exchange and curb market and all the indices showed improvement. Papers made the best showing in the key groups.

May, July Ryes Hit New Highs

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15—(CP)—It took little in the way of buying to advance rye futures prices today on the Winnipeg grain exchange with May and July months hitting new highs and October equalling the previous top mark.

Both May and July advanced the five-cent a bushel limit and closed at or near the top for the day. May finished at $2.62⅝b, July $2.51¼b, and Oct. $1.97.

Dealings were fairly active with the bulk of sales in the October futures, but supplies continued meagre. Advances at Chicago and in Argentine prices were factors here.

Former Premier Nova Scotia Dies

BRIDGEWATER, N.S., Feb. 15.—(CP)—Hon. Ernest Howard Armstrong, former Liberal premier of Nova Scotia, died at his home here today after a lengthy illness. An invalid for the last 13 years, Mr. Armstrong was 81. After several years as a member of the legislature he succeeded Hon. George H. Murray as Premier of the province in 1923, an office he held until he was defeated by Hon. E. N. Rhodes in 1925.

Air Lines Plan Wide Publicity Of Northwest

Full scale publicity campaign, proclaiming the beauties of the Canadian Northwest to Californians, is being undertaken immediately by Western Air Lines, Lawrence Nichols, Edmonton traffic manager for the company, stated here Friday on his return from a Western Air Lines system staff conference in Hollywood.

WESTERN AIR LINES officials are keenly alive to the possibilities of a heavy post-war traffic of west coast Americans to this area. No other matter received greater attention at the conference held in the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel, he said.

Banff, Lake Louise and Jasper National Parks are the magnets certain to attract thousands of Californians.

The company is heading into a huge expansion program with 24 Douglas DC 4's, having been contracted for. Eight of these, converted army four-motored planes, have already been delivered and are now in operation between San Francisco and San Diego.

LATER THE FOUR-MOTORED equipment will likely make an appearance on the Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Great Falls and Lethbridge run, which connects with TCA planes flying between Edmonton and Lethbridge.

The food situation in California has eased considerably in recent weeks, Mr. Nichols said. Butter is still very scarce, but there has been a big improvement in the meat supply situation.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

FOR this corner's dough, Jack Manson, Bill Gadsby and Cy Thomas were the top performers in Thursday night's junior playoff. It may be claimed that many of the Canadian shots were directly on Manson's pads, but even if they were, a goalie should be given credit for having those pads in exactly the right place.

Jack was caught out of position on Eddie Thomas' second goal, but he had made a save at the side of the net immediately before the puck came back to Eddie from Cy.

IN ADDITION to scoring one and setting up Rypien for that tying counter, Gadsby always was in the game and even with the Canadians short two men in the last period, had the urge along with Cy Thomas, and did go on the offensive.

Hon Matthews took a couple of needless penalties in the final session, but both defensively and on the attack, also was a standout. The Black line wasn't operating at the usual gait, but Black and Groves combined for one goal. Canadians were given eight penalties and Leafs three.

BUD McPHERSON retired in the third period with a nasty skate gash in the foot. Bud didn't appear in the first game of the series at all, due to an injury sustained in the last of the semi-finals. Mike Thomas and Harvey Dodds along with Jimmy King were the pick of the Leaf forwards, with Moe Furman getting in a lot of work and absorbing several bumps.

Shortly after the start of the third period with Cy Thomas still serving a penalty, John Colville called in his defence and tried a five-forward scheme. Bob Jackson almost beat John Sofiak on a close-in, but Cy Thomas just about upset the strategy when he fired in a goal which was disallowed because the puck had been handled by Rypien without making a play on it before Cy secured possession.

SOFIAK ONLY had five shots to handle in the first period, but turned back five in the first five minutes of the second. He had two in the last 35 minutes of the middle session, just one in the last 10 minutes. Leafs got in two shots at the Canadian goalie in the first ten minutes of the last period and three in the second half, two of which registered. The shots on Manson by periods were 10, nine and 22.

There was no flooding of the ice between periods despite the fact the game was a playoff. But then perhaps, an attendance of 2,500 doesn't justify the extra overhead entailed in spreading a couple of barrels of hot water over the arena's slow ice surface.

WITH THE OPENING date of Edmonton's annual five-pin bowling tournament still three weeks away, entries already have passed the 500 mark, Vic Bubba, tournament manager announced last night.

The Western Canada regional playdowns with bowlers from Calgary, Vancouver and Edmonton participating, will be a major drawing card. The city championship event will get under way on Tuesday, March 12. The "booster" team events designed especially for inexperienced bowlers is again popular. This feature organized for ladies last year, has been extended to include men for this tourney.

Unusual entries include a "young-oldest" combination featuring Don Turvey and Watt Ramsey in men's "A" doubles and "The Windbags", a men's team with the McCallum brothers having the leading role. The tournament will last seven days, starting Saturday, March 9. Entry deadline is midnight March 2.

LLOYDMINSTER, Feb. 14—After three days of play in the Lloydminster bonspiel the jewellery was reached in the two main events, the grand challenge and Alberta Hotel competition Thursday.

Four rinks remaining in the grand challenge are Danbrook of Kitscoty, Hanson of Maidstone, Munro of Battleford and King of the home club. Four local rinks are in the Alberta hotel playoffs, Noyes, Hutchich, Lawson and Bond.

Wednesday night's three undefeated rinks met their Waterloo during yesterday's play. Wallace of Lloydminster and Dillon of Lashburn were defeated in the grand challenge by King of Lloydminster and Munro of Battleford.

Munro, last of the 41 rinks entered to suffer defeat, lost to Noyes in the Alberta Hotel event after taking six straight games. Conditions for this year's event in this bustletown are ideal and four sheets of keen ice are in use from early morning till well past midnight.

Canadians Stop Leafs 8-3 to Even Series

Power Line Thursday Night

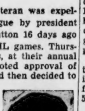
John Rypien, flanked by Eddie (left above) and Cy Thomas, starting line for Canadians, Thursday night, did most of the scoring damage in the second of the City Junior League playoffs, coming up with five of the eight goals registered against Maple Leafs. Rypien, winner of the league's scoring title, chicked for a pair the same as Eddie, with Cy contributing one, plus an assist. Other pla yers, however, shared in the Canadian goals, with Bill Gadsby, Harry Groves and Vince Bannon each finishing off one.

Change Constitution

Babe Pratt Is Reinstated by NHL Board of Governors

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(CP) — Hockey's "honest switchman", defenceman Walter (Babe) Pratt of Toronto Maple Leafs, was reinstated to the National Hockey League here Thursday by the circuit's board of governors just in time to help his team in its drive toward the playoffs.

The amiable veteran was expelled from the league by president Mervyn (Red) Dutton 16 days ago for betting on NHL games. Thursday the governors, at their annual spring meeting, voted approval of Dutton's action and then decided to accept the president's recommendation of leniency and re-instate Pratt, effective as of Thursday.



Babe Pratt

Immediately afterward, the governors voted a change in the league constitution eliminating the right of appeal for any player or official found guilty of betting on any National Hockey League game. Previously the constitution had provided for appeal with the privilege of appealing to the governors.

Pratt was the first player expelled on a betting charge since the league was organized in 1917.

Dutton explained that Pratt's frankness and his willingness to admit that he had violated the anti-betting rule had influenced the governors toward leniency. Another charge, that Pratt had failed to observe a rule requiring players to report attempts to bribe them, was dismissed.

BEFORE HIS EXPULSION, Pratt had told Dutton of such an offer, received over the telephone, and had explained that he had failed to report it because he had heard nothing more and was not certain it wasn't a practical joke.

The governors also drew up a schedule of Stanley Cup playoff dates and announced that under a new arrangement, players on the four teams in the post-season cup competition would cut up the biggest financial melon in the history of the league—a pool involving about $90,000.

March 19 was set for the opening of the semi-finals, with the first and third games and the second and fourth meeting in the opening round.

THE PRATT CASE overshadowed all other business. The big defenceman, wearing a dark blue suit and a green tie, arrived at the conference sharp at 2 p.m.

He was left cooling his heels for an hour and while waiting, frankly explained his case to newspapermen.

Pratt admitted that the team as a whole, and he in particular, had been warned to stop betting. He said, however, that he had hit a losing streak and had continued gambling in an effort to recoup his losses. He said he had never bet against his own team and denied that he had been offered a "serious" bribe to throw a game.

Maj. Conn Smythe, manager of the Leafs, attended the governors' meeting but did not vole on the Pratt case. He announced afterwards that Pratt would play for the Leafs against Montreal Canadiens in Toronto Saturday night.

PRESIDENT DUTTON announced the new play-off pool which he termed "100 per cent better for the players" than previous arrangements.

Under the new set-up, the clubs will not get any share of the gate receipts of the first four games of any play-off series except for rink expenses.

In the semi-final series, the players on the league champion team will get 40 per cent of the net receipts of the player pool, the second team 30 per cent, third 20 and fourth 10.

In the cup finals, players on the winning club will get 60 per cent and the losers 40 per cent.

Dutton also announced that no series was to extend beyond seven games and that unlimited overtime would be played in case of a tie.

Another change was in the conditions for award of the Vezina trophy to goal tenders. In future, the award will go to the team with the fewest goals scored against it during the season. The goalie playing the most games for the club will get the cup.

Camrose Takes Exhibition Tilt

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

CAMROSE, Feb. 15.—Camrose Maroons sharpened up their scoring eyes for Saturday night's playoff tilt with Edmonton Independents at the local Vegreville Rangers 13-4 in an exhibition tilt here last night. Rangers were without the services of their regular goalie, Bud Bradshaw, injured in pre-game practice.

Camrose scored five in the first to two for Vegreville, added three in the second without reply and finished up by outscoring Rangers 5-2 in the play.

Pete Elock, Maroons defenceman picked up five goals. A crowd of 600 fans watched the rather ragged contest.

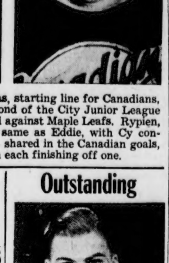
Outstanding



Jack Manson easily was the outstanding player for Canadians in blue and white squad at the arena last night. Eight goals got past the smart goalie for the Maple Leafs, but he had 41 shots to deal with, over half the total being fired his way in the final period.

Third Game Of Playoff On Tuesday

Coming from behind an early-goal disadvantage and outscoring their opponents in all three periods, Canadians defeated the Maple Leafs 8-3 at the Arena Thursday night and squared the best-of-three City Junior Hockey League playoff series at one game each. Attendance was 2,500. The third game will be played next Tuesday.

Excepting for the first minutes of the first and second periods when the Leafs had the Canadians really baffled, the league leaders kept the play pretty well under control and only super goaling by Jack Manson held the score down.

The Maple Leaf net-minder made at least a half dozen point-blank saves in the final period alone when he turned back 18 of the 22 shots fired at him, Canadians held a 41 to 17 margin on shots during the entire game.

DIRECTLY responsible for five goals, the Thomas line constituted the most dangerous attacking combination on the ice, Johnny Rypien and Eddie Thomas tallying two goals each, with Cy Thomas contributing one, along with an assist. Other Canadian counters came from the sticks of Bill Gadsby and Vince Bannon, the latter getting also had an assist, and Harry Groves.

Harvey Dodds, whose opening tally seemed to kindle the early Leaf fire, Jimmy King and Red Heron were the goal-getters for the losers, assists going to Mike Thomas and Jack Kesko.

STARTING WITH Bud McPherson at centre and Mike Thomas and Jimmy King on the wings, the Leafs immediately took on the offensive, but Bill Gadsby broke through for the first shot of the night. John Sofiak in turn had two quick saves as the Leafs backed the Canadians up behind their blue line. Ron Hutcheon through the entire Leaf team, but Rypien was checked before he could get a close-in shot away on the pass.

A PENALTY to Don Slater for butt-ending set the stage for the opening goal of the game, Harvey Dodds driving a finished job with a high shot into the uncovered side of Canadian net after taking Mike Thomas' pass ahead, at 5:12. Canadians held quite an edge midway in the period but were unable to capitalize on their opportunities even when Bannon was sent off for charging. Rypien did turn on the red light, but the goal was washed out by an offside call.

HERON HAD JUST returned to the ice when Rypien took Gadsby's set-up pass and went right in to tie the count at 15:35.

A man advantage to Leafs when Gadsby was waived for interfering ice resulted in no change and Eddie Thomas gave Canadians the lead with four seconds remaining, when he circled the Leaf net and shoved the puck between Manson and the post.

LEAFS HAD FIVE shots on the Canadian goal in the first few minutes of the middle session, but with them were from beyond the blue line and one by McPherson was drifted in from the boards exactly on the red line, but nevertheless, Leafs were enjoying a margin on the play until they dropped another goal behind.

Bill Pettinger had a big share in the scoring when Rypien registered at 5:35 and which seemed to take the steam out of the Leafs. Pettinger drove from just inside the blue line and Rypien relayed right in front, deflected the puck high into the net, Manson having no chance whatever.

FROM HERE Canadians took over and when Bannon slipped a pass ahead to Gadsby as he hit the defence, the game was lost for the Leafs. Gadsby skated right in for the goal at 12:26. Cy Thomas hit the Leaf goal-post second later. Penalties went to Black and Cy Thomas before the end of the period with the score 6-1.

Harry Groves put Canadians up 5-1 when he stopped Bill Black's waist high shot and banged the rubber in at 5:55.

Bannon and Lucchini almost scored just before Doug Anderson shoved a pass over to Bannon for another Canadian goal at 11:17.

JIMMY KING netted for Leafs on a breakaway at 12:15, with Jack Kiesko serving a hooking penalty. King pushed the puck between Sofiak's feet. Red Heron came up with another Leaf goal at 14:36, Klesko drawing the assist.

Penalties to Jackson, Slater and Matthews gave Leafs one man advantage for a while and two when Jackson returned, but despite playing six to four, Leafs were unable to get in and never got a single shot at Sofiak. Both Gadsby and Cy Thomas went right through only to be beaten by Manson, and at 18:20, with the Canadians still two men short Cy got away alone again and scored.

Matthews was still off when Eddie Thomas banged in another 25 seconds later, Cy getting credit for an assist. Matthews went off a second time with less than a minute to go for tripping.

Ritchie Drops Final

Rose Takes Rubber Session In Copping Northern Consols

W. W. (Billy) Rose, veteran skip from Sedgewick, winner of two competitions and semi-finalist in another of the Alberta Curling Association's 29th annual bonspiel, this year added the northern Alberta British Consols to his list yesterday by downing Harold Ritchie's Granite rink 12-9 in the final at the Royal.

After dropping the first game of the best, of three series 15-6 Wednesday afternoon, Rose came back to win 11-5 and tie it up that evening. Then in one of the best games of the week-end-a-half-long spiel, Rose counted three on the 11th end to break a 9-9 tie and win out.

In the deciding game, Rose only counted on five of 11 ends, but marked up a three on three different ends. He opened with a trio on the first and added one on the second. Ritchie came back to count three on the third, but Rose made it 6-3 on the fourth with a two.

Ritchie then counted two ends in a row to tie it up at 6-6 going into the seventh. Rose came back with another three to make it 9-6 and then the Granite skip counted one on three straight ends to tie it up on the tenth. Then Rose finished it up with a three on the 11th.

Rose's three on the seventh end came with one of the best shots of the bonspiel. Ritchie was lying two when the Sedgewick skip went down to heave his last rock. Billy made a perfect shot of it to knock out Ritchie's two and count three.

It was a high grade of curling right from the first rock.

Rose, who won both the Visitors and North West Brewing competitions in the two events he's taken in the grand challenge semi-final by Cliff Manahan.

He now meets the winner of the southern playoff, now under way at Calgary on Feb. 23 at the Royal rink.

Score by ends:

Dates Not Arranged

1948 Olympic Games To Be Held in London

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—International amateur athletic competition received a shot in the arm Thursday with the announcement that the Olympic games, cancelled in 1940 and 1944 because of war, will be revived in 1948 in London.

Award of the normally quadrennial sports festival to London was announced by Lord Burghley, chairman of the British Olympic Council, after he was notified of the selection of the site by J. Sigfrid Edstrom of Sweden, acting president of the international olympic committee. Lord Burghley said the games had the full approval of "His Majesty's government".

Dates of the winter and summer competition will be announced later by the international committee, St. Moritz, Switzerland, bid for the winter games at a meeting of the I.O.C. last September.

WHILE LONDON WILL be host to the competing countries, the IOC will determine which should be invited. This was looked upon as a delicate task in view of the global war's effect upon international relations.

In this connection, the IOC will have a ticklish time deciding in the cases of Japan and Germany. The 11th Olympiad in 1936—the last since the ancient Greek athletic carnival was revived in 1896—was held in Berlin. The 1940 games were awarded to Tokyo, but cancelled because of the Sino-Japanese war. Then the games were assigned to Finland and again they were cancelled because of the European war, which together with the war in the Pacific, took the toll of the 1944 games planned for London.

EAC North 6-0 Over South Team To Tie Up Finals

Punching in four goals in the third period, EAC North tied up the best-of-three series, City Midget Hockey League finals, when they blanked EAC South 6-0 at the South Side rink Thursday night. The losers had beaten EAC North 2-0 in the first game of the finals.

Earle Fladager, flashy EAC North netminder, got a grilling workout during the fixture and emerged with flying colors and his third shut-out of the season to his credit.

Eddie May put EAC out in front 1-0 in the first, driving in a pass from Eldon Thomas, and in the second period the count went to 2-0 when Dale McKee clicked on a pass-out from Doug Kilburn.

May started the scoring in the third whipping in an early tally, and team mates Maurice Excellier, Eddie Foo and Leo Dupuis slammed in singles each. Though right-winger Bruce Dickson failed to pick up any points in the game he displayed a standout brand of puck-chasing throughout.

The two teams clash again in what might be the final, Saturday night, at the 119 street rink.

LINEUPS
EAC North: Fladager, Foo, Carnegie, Thomas, Dupuis, McKee, Biogrin, Munro, E. Kilburn, May, Dickson, Watt, Excallier, Julian.

Smith gave the Leafs a temporary lead in the opening canto, by netting a single, but Bob Fleming, Jack Bradshaw and Walter Lupul gave Canadians a counter apiece to close the heat with the Leafs on the short end of a 3-1 count.

Canadians paced the second heat with three more markers, Bob Jowett, Gordon Pearce and Bradshaw sharing the honors for the canto with a single each, the chapter closing with Canadians leading 6-1.

Jack Davies scored the final Canadian counter in the third frame, and then the Maple Leaf snipers took the spotlight. Dennie Smith whipped in a relay from Ed. Barry. Barry burned in the disc shortly after on a lone play, and Smith netted the final counter on passouts from Barry and Stan Patterson.

Saskatchewan Dairy Official At Convention

"We must realize that today synthetic vitamins are an accomplished fact," said Percy Reed, Regina, dairy commissioner for Saskatchewan, in an address Thursday to the Alberta Dairymen's Association.

THE ASSOCIATION ends its silver jubilee convention today in the Macdonald hotel. It began Tuesday and will terminate with a banquet in the main dining hall this evening.

Mr. Reed said there had been a "tremendous" increase in the knowledge of vitamins in recent years, but apparently we are still only on the margin of what may be expected to develop along that line.

"We, in the prairie provinces must continue to find markets for the majority of our output outside our own boundaries," emphasized Mr. Reed.

IN SPEAKING of the importance of volume in the creamery business, he said that western dairymen were actually competing in the world's food markets, and that they had to face every type of production condition including those of countries where they have cheaper labor than is available here.

He recommended economy in production and processing as the watchword for Canadian dairymen.

In speaking of what had been accomplished in Saskatchewan, Mr. Reed said that in 1928 there were 82 creameries in operation with an average output per plant of 137,932 pounds, while in 1944 the plants were reduced to 62, but each averaged an output of 77,919 pounds.

HE COUNSELLED the dairymen to keep together and to follow the developments of all branches of the industry in the coming years, for while the future of dairying appeared to be bright it was necessary for all members to keep abreast of the times and to progress accordingly.

J. B. Ritchie, Clover Bar, president of the association, was chairman of the morning session.

Reports Heard At Annual Meet Royal Trust Co

The president, Robert P. Jellett, presided at the 46th annual general meeting of shareholders of The Royal Trust Company, held at the head office in Montreal on February 12, and in addressing the meeting, said that profits for the year at $486,000 were $53,000 better than in the previous year, and that the continued improvement in the company's business and in the value and marketability of real estate had enabled it to transfer another $500,000 to reserve, which now stands at $4,500,000, with $500,000 at credit of reserve for contingencies.

THE GENERAL MANAGER, Ross Clarkson, reviewed the earnings and balance sheet of the company, saying that gross revenue was up $196,000, at $3,157,000, an all-time high, and charges before taxes were up $124,000 at $2,366,000. Gross profit amounted to $791,000, of which $293,000 was taken for taxes, leaving a net profit of $498,000.

This is higher by $53,000 than in the previous year. A special contribution of $75,000 was made to the pension fund and $60,000 was set aside to pay a bonus of 3 per cent. to shareholders. The balance of profit and loss account carried forward was up $43,000 at $1,137,000.

THE BALANCE SHEET showed own and guaranteed account assets of $22,773,000 which was $8,137,000 in excess of liabilities. Assets under administration, including own and guaranteed accounts, amounted at conservative valuations, to $882,628,000, a record figure, and up $64,635,000 from last year.

Mr. Clarkson reported substantial growth in the company's principal business, that of administering estates and trusts, adding that administration difficulties, however, are many with the numerous governmental controls and with succession duties and income tax remaining high, while interests rates decline.

AT A SUBSEQUENT meeting of the board the following officers were elected: honorary president

MP in City

C. EARLE DESMOND

Sugar Situation Is Unwarranted States Tory MP

Sugar situation in Canada is unwarranted largely because of "poor handling" of the manpower policy by the federal government, C. Earle Desmond, Progressive Conservative member of the Dominion Parliament for Kent, Ont., charged in an interview here Thursday.

MR. DESMOND is making a "familiarization" tour of the prairie provinces in line with the new policy of the Progressive Conservative party, which formed a nation-wide organization committee some time ago. Through this committee MP's move from one part of Canada to another to get first-hand information on local conditions.

Mr. Desmond, a farmer, was critical of the federal government's sugar policy.

HE SAID THAT although Canada is a member of the joint U.S.-United Kingdom-Canadian sugar pool Canada only received 47 per cent of the total pool stocks last year.

The U.S. increased production last year and so did Great Britain but in Canada production dropped off alarmingly, particularly in Ontario where acreage in sugar beets fell from 40,000 to 8,500, Mr. Desmond said.

German prisoners-of-war and Japanese labor were used in the field but permission was refused to permit 1,200 to 1,400 men at an army training centre at Chatham to work on the sugar beet crop, he claimed.

"THERE WAS NOT sufficient yield to keep many plants operating and where mechanized equipment was made available to farmers it was used for other purposes," Mr. Desmond said.

Canada must cultivate many export outlets if the nation is to prosper he contended.

Canadian unity has deteriorated, he felt because of a lack of clear understanding and appreciation of the problems affecting the various sections of the Dominion.

Mr. Desmond declined to comment on the rift among the provinces arising from Premier George Drew's firm stand against acceptance of the federal government's proposals for post-war Dominion-provincial relations.

"PREMIER DREW is fighting a fight for the Province of Ontario, a provincial matter over which we as federal MP's have no control," Mr. Desmond said.

The main purpose of the present tour is to stimulate interest in questions of the day during in-between-election periods.

Mr. Desmond addressed a luncheon meeting of officers of Progressive Conservative associations at the Corona hotel at noon Thursday.

SHEEP "FURS"

SYDNEY, Aus.—(CP)—A new process has been developed which will turn humble sheepskins into glamorous garments that only experts could distinguish from beaver and other expensive furs. The process enables coats to be made to sell at only a fraction of the cost of the genuine furs.

Joint Meeting Hears Report On China Fusion

Drawing on the impressions he formed during war-time years spent in the leftist area of China, Michael Lindsay, British educator and former teacher in Yenan province, forecast Thursday afternoon a definite possibility of selling problems facing the successful uniting of Communists and progressive elements in the central Chinese government at Chungking.

MR. LINDSAY TOLD a joint luncheon meeting of the Rotary club and the Men's Canadian club in the Macdonald hotel that refusal of the United States to support the Chungking government in a long drawn out civil war against the Communists led to the adoption of the compromise government in the Asiatic home of millions of people who, until recently regarded a government simply as "an organization which took their money."

Introduced to the gathering of more than 200 persons by Hugh C. Gourley, Canadian Club president, the speaker asserted that the Communist organization in China differed from Communists in other countries. "They have confined their membership in China to one-third of any elected board or council," he explained, since they felt that only as an opposition party could they fit into the pattern of a democratic government.

CAPITALISM MUST play an important part in the development of China, Mr. Lindsay declared, so the country had adopted a general program of agrarian reform, abolishing the old feudal system of village government and fostering trade and industry, rather than attempting to revolutionize and socialize the country overnight.

"It is clear to me," he continued, "that the old Chinese government system was pretty bad. People who made fortunes were not merchants or manufacturers, but government officials. Most villages were dominated by a big, landlord family, with the ordinary peasant having a pretty poor time of it."

He said that as relations between the Chungking government and the Communists got steadily worse a wide campaign of agrarian and political reform swept through the country.

THAT THE NATURAL resources of China had not been completely exploited by the Japanese, was the result of the whole-hearted support given Chinese guerrilla troops by the population as a whole, Mr. Lindsay declared, pointing out that in the last year of the war, the Japanese were forced to fight as many as 80 engagements each day.

With Mr. Lindsay at the head table were Darcy McLeod, Rotary club director; Bert Hollinshead, Rotary club secretary; Rotarian Harold Fazackerly; Alfred Sterling, Australian high commissioner to Canada; Gordon Henry, chairman of the meeting; Mr. Gourlay and P. H. Moir, the latter a new member of the Rotary club. There were 155 Rotarians and 60 Canadian club members present, with visitors including ex-Mayor John W. Fry, ex-Mayor Andrew Davidson of Calgary and Howard McDonald, MLA. The Rev. Elgin Turnbull said grace prior to the luncheon.

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Some time ago I wrote a series explaining the "Fishbein Convention" for handling weak-two-bids and pre-emptive three-bids. Today's hand came up at Harry Fishbein's own club, the Mayfair Bridge Club, New York.

South opened the bidding with three hearts, and West's bid of three spades was the "Fishbein Convention" asking his partner to bid. West could have made the same bid without a strong spade suit. In this convention, the overcall of a three-bid with the next higher ranking suit simply forces your partner to bid.

In this instance, East elected to pass, but Fishbein said he should not have passed; his correct response over three spades was four clubs, and West should then bid four spades. The hand is close to making six clubs, but if East elects to pass four spades, he and West will have the 100 honors to compensate for the loss in failing to bid a small slam.

If East's hand were a little stronger—if he held the king-queen of clubs, the jack of spades and queen of diamonds, for instance—he might easily bid five spades over four. West then would show the fit in clubs and they would arrive at a small slam in spades.

The ROAD AHEAD

by Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

STATEMENTS made recently by both the Calgary Property Owners' Association and the Edmonton Home Protective Association deserve careful consideration by all fair thinking people. The Calgary group started the ball rolling by stating that they did not intend to support the campaign being sponsored to get home owners to "rent to veterans" until the government withdraws all the present restrictive regulations on rents and renting. This brought a hot retort from Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial minister of economic affairs and was followed by a meeting of the Edmonton group supporting the stand taken by the Calgary group and condemning Mr. Hooke.

THE ORIGINAL objection raised by the Calgary group was that under the regulations they couldn't get rid of a tenant who happened to be obnoxious. Even under the short-lease regulations which permit the landlord to give legal notice, the legal proceedings necessary to get a tenant out, if he didn't want to go, were expensive, the group stated. To offset this objection the Calgary Legion took action to guarantee that any landlord who would rent to a veteran would not be put to any personal expense if the veteran turned out to be obnoxious. But this didn't stop either the Calgary group or the Edmonton group.

WHAT THEY REALLY want is for the government to withdraw the rent-fixing and non-eviction regulations. It looked to them as though they could use the present

FUSE BLOWING CAUSES DELAY AS HOUSE OPENS

As galleries became crowded with spectators and floor of the Legislative Assembly became filled with the wives and friends of members of the house for the formal opening on Thursday afternoon, the hundreds of lights in the high domed ceiling went out and plunged the chamber into gloom.

The semi-darkness caused a brief delay in opening of the house, until the blown fuse in the circuit was replaced and the lights again came on.

Barnet's Orchestra Can Play It Sweet

Charlie Barnet's orchestra, which has been acclaimed one of the greatest swing units in the country, can play sweet music, too.

The group has been brought up to such a point of musical flexibility that its sweet tunes are as sugary as its jungle tunes are swingy.

THE BARNET RENDITIONS of slow, dreamy dance favorites have brought forth many a word of approval on their polished manner of presentation.

And yet, when it's swing music that's wanted, the band can really turn on the heat. Its power and drive have been the delight and distraction of millions.

Charlie Barnet and his great orchestra will play for dancing in the spacious, comfortable drill hall of North West Air Command, Kingsway, on Tuesday, Feb. 19.

125 Veterans Have Requested On-Job-Training

So far 125 veterans have registered at the department of veterans' affairs as applicants for the current training - on - the-job campaigning which opened in Edmonton this week, while 38 employers have offered openings in a variety of trades, 20 in local firms and 18 in other districts in Northern Alberta. These figures were released Thursday morning by Robert McMichael, campaign secretary.

FOURTEEN of the applicants want to be watch makers, in a recent survey it was revealed that in Edmonton alone there were openings for 28 watchmakers, while 150 openings were reported throughout the province. Most of these, however, called for skilled men.

A number of requests have been received by veterans' officials for men to be taken on straight jobs, outside of the training scheme at all. These have referred through the veterans' placement officer to the National Employment Service.

J. W. PROCTOR, district administrator, DVA, stated that according to letters received there is definitely a need of skilled men throughout the province.

Training on the job as explained by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, veterans' affairs minister, "is to give the veteran an opportunity to earn a wage while learning a skill. The DVA, realizing that the man or women may not be sufficiently skilled to return value for full wages, is prepared to subsidize his or her income."

Citizens' committees, the Canadian Legion and Edmonton service clubs have endorsed the campaign and are co-operating with the DVA. A thorough canvass of Edmonton business houses is being organized, and citizens' committees in outlying districts are arranging meetings at which speakers will be on hand to explain the exact meaning of "training-on-the-job."

EDMONTON'S GOAL is to find 600 new openings for veterans to train on the job.

Veterans' affairs officials ask as many veterans as possible to register for this campaign. Campaign officials have been interviewing students at the vocational training schools, determining how many would like to take his second type of training.

So far 190 veterans have been placed with business firms as training-on-the-job students and out of that number only ten have since changed employers.

All applicants for training are interviewed before they are passed for the training and it is essential that they desire permanent rehabilitation.

"Joy Ride" Lands Veterans in Jail

Combined operations by four members of the RCAF and the Canadian Army Thursday night led to trouble for the participating servicemen. Two airmen and two soldiers decided to spend an evening joy-riding, and they started off with a stolen motorcycle.

CITY POLICE ARRESTED John Geoford and Arthur Melicke of the RCAF and Tony Waleer and Ralph Guest of the Army. They were apprehended at 11:30 p.m. on Macdonald Drive just west of 100 street, only a few hundred yards from where they stole the motorcycle from in front of the Memorial Hall. Vehicle is owned by Harold Herd, suite 128, exhibition grounds.

When stopped by the police, Geoford was at the machine with the other three men pushing. How all four intended to pile on the motorbike is still mystifying city police.

THE QUESTION

Walter "Babe" Pratt, NHL star, has been reinstated following suspension on charges of gambling on hockey games. Since the case broke there have been many rumors of a professional hockey players' union to fight cases of players who are disciplined by clubs and the league board of governors. Do you think such a union would harm or benefit the game?

THE ANSWERS

VINCE NEALE, student: I am in favor of unions but not for the purpose of counteracting righteous discipline.

* * *

J. GREEN, tractor operator and hockey fan: I think professional hockey players have just as much right to unionize as other professional entertainers. A few people make hundreds of thousands of dollars from the efforts of starry hockey players, who have no say whatever in what the scale of salaries shall be. I do not think it would harm the game if players formed a union.

* * *

J. GREGORY, engineer: I'm just too good a fan to like the idea of hockey players' unions. Imagine the tragedy of a thrilling playoff final called off on the day it were to open because the puckchasers were on a sitdown for more mazuma. No, no! Anything but that.

Gasoline Drained From Parked Car

City police are looking for three young men who drained the gas from a car belonging to A. Faulkner of Calmar Thursday night while his auto was parked just north of the Macdonald hotel. Faulkner saw three men, all about 20 years of age, leave the rear of his car as he approached it to drive off. The men climbed into a nearby car and drove away. Unsuspectingly, Faulkner climbed into his vehicle only to find that he was out of gas. The tank had been drained dry.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Fiancee Is Opposed to Ex-GI Entering College

Parents of Young Ex-GI Wish Their Son to Enter College and Are Willing to Pay Expenses; Fiancee Refuses to Marry Under Those Stipulations

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man who has just turned 21 and have recently been honorably discharged from the service. My family want me to go to college and take up a profession and would pay all my expenses but I am in love with a girl who wants to be married right away, and who refuses to marry me if I fail in with my family's plan because she will not let them support her. She has a very good job and is very independent.

BEWILDERED YOUTH

ANSWER: You certainly do face a dilemma, on whichever way you decide it, it is bound to bring a certain amount of disappointment and heartache that should have no part in love's young dream. In analyzing the situation it seems to me that the girl is making the position she is taking. I honor and respect her for her independence in not wanting to be supported by her parents during the years while you are in college studying a profession, but they are short compared to a whole lifetime with a husband she loved. Nor need she eat the bread of her in-laws. The wives of many men who have gone back to college to complete their educations get jobs and are self-supporting.

CERTAINLY A WOMAN who demands that her fiance give up a college education and the profession he desires to follow in order that he may marry her is asking a great sacrifice of him, and all for no good reason, except that she is in a hurry to get married.

I think a man confronted with such a situation is very foolish to accede to her demands, because it not only means the blasting of all his ambitions, but in the end it means the ruination of the marriage. For the wife is not satisfied with her husband being the mediocre man she has made of him, nor the poorer way of life that his income forces upon them. Many a wife who ruins her husband's prospects despises him for the failure she has made of him.

MY ADVICE IN YOUR CASE would be to take your parent's offer and go to college. If the girl's love isn't strong enough for her to be willing to wait for you, or to sacrifice her independence, it isn't good enough.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 20 years old and have been married five years and have two children. My husband is a good man. He works hard and is faithful to me. But he never takes me any place. He thinks it's foolish for women to want pretty clothes and I don't have any. He won't take me dancing. He thinks dancing is ugly and to go out and have fun a waste of time and money. And he isn't affectionate.

But I like to dance and go out and have good times, and I feel that I am entitled to some enjoyment. What should I do?

A GIRL WHO NEEDS FUN AND TO BE LOVED

ANSWER: You are just another tragic example of the folly of a girl getting married before she has had some playtime. At an age when you should be dancing and having dates you are tied down with children and an uncongenial husband who has to work so hard to support his family that all he wants to do is just to rest himself of an evening.

AND THERE IS no way you can possibly change the conditions without wrecking your home and ruining the lives of your husband and children.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am desperately in love with a girl who has broken off our engagement because she is the sole support of her mother and two young sisters. The mother is 49 years old and in fine health, but she does not do a hand's turn towards supporting herself, nor do the girls, though plenty of other girls their age are at work.

I am about to go out of my mind at losing my sweetheart. What should we do?

ANSWER: I think that your girl should tell her mother and her sisters that they have got to roll up their sleeves and go to work. It is shameful for any able-bodied woman of 49 to make slaves of her children. She is far more able to work than they are.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

ADULTS with no children, or grown children, cannot help but sit on the sidelines and at times become indignant at what goes on about them. Here are two mothers who express their opinions about what they have observed.

Mrs. M. E. C. writes, "There are lots of young fathers coming home who are quite untrained in the role of parent. I am sure there will be many who will toss their babies about as if they were sacks of meal or small animals and also tickle them. They do this because the child laughs.

"Can't children be harmed by too much of such play?"

ALL UNUSUAL EXCITEMENT excites the child nervously. The more sensitive a child, the greater would be the nervous reaction from too much of any type of play.

But one cannot blame the new father from trying to get better acquainted with his strange, new offspring, and playing with the baby would be an easy way to accomplish that.

IT REMAINS for all persons dealing with children to exert moderation. A little play would be excellent for children loved fondling and happy experiences with adults, too much would be nervously exhausting. The new parent has to begin to develop judgment and know when enough is enough.

Mrs. C. E. H. is disturbed about the long hair in vogue today. "Why do girls torment themselves with this long hair, always having to be lifted out of coat collars, getting in the way of dresses and slips, having constantly to be brushed out of eyes? My child grew up in the bobbed-hair era and she was perfectly unconscious of her hair. I can see now what a boon that was.

"May I speak, too, of the way in which mothers dress themselves and their children? The mother goes around the house with a sweater on and her small child sits on the floor in short sleeves, low neck and maybe a cotton sweat shirt. Fur-clad mothers in church dress their children in Sunday-suit clothes. Why don't mothers try out the temperature in the same weight garments as the child?"

It would be difficult for one child to make herself so different from her companions. Children have to conform. But all fashions change, eventually, and this will too.

THE QUERY about clothing is a perennial one. But the clothes in which one person or another is uncomfortable or miserable is so individual a one that no rules hold. You are right that a mother has to use her imagination and also be conscientious about her child's comfort.

Why Grow Old?

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "LATELY MY TEETH seem to get dull and yellow. I brush them every day and had a check-up a few months ago. Do you think it is my tooth paste?"

A. Soda and common table salt make a splendid tooth powder. You might try this, and also have your teeth professionally cleaned by a dentist once in a while. You should brush them after each meal if possible.

Q. "Please give a good hand exercise in your column soon."

A. LIFT YOUR HANDS in front of you. Grip your fingers, clenching your fists. Fling your fingers apart and back separating them as far as possible. Continue clenching and extending.

Q. "My daughter is 12 and weighs 108 pounds. Is she overweight and how much? If she is overweight should I put her on a diet or wait until she is older?"

A. YOU DID NOT GIVE me your daughter's height or tell me whether she is large or small boned; however, 108 pounds does not sound overweight at all. I would be hesitant to reduce a girl of that age unless she is really fat for a few extra pounds give her a health reserve she needs. Whenever reducing is done the diet should be carefully prescribed, for she needs many foods, and lots of them at this time of rapid physical development.

Q. "I am 21 years old and 5 feet, 2 inches tall. I am shorter than most of the girls I know. Is there any way to increase height?"

A. Only through improved posture. Some stretching exercises may also help. One of the best is hanging by the hands from a horizontal bar. If your posture is imperfect you can add an inch or so by improvement. Anyway, learn to hold yourself beautifully and your height won't make any difference.

Q. "WILL YOU PLEASE tell me what to do about a large wide nose? I have a rather long face."

A. Use a slightly darker shade of powder on the sides of your nose than on top of the bridge. Also avoid parting your hair in the centre. Fullness at the top hair line will also minimize a large nose. Since you have a long face I should think that soft bangs would be becoming from a standpoint of the nose and the face type.

Q. "I have large veins in my hands. What can I do for this? My hands are ugly. Should I wear rings?"

A. LARGE VEINS ARE an inherited characteristic. There is nothing you can do about them except keep your hands out of hot water as much as possible and form the habit of holding your fingers toward the ceiling as much as you can. If you really think your hands are unattractive it will be better not to call attention to them by wearing jewelry. Just keep them soft with lotions, be sure the nails are well manicured and wear a natural or light shade of polish.

A GIRL LIKES TO KNOW WHERE SHE STANDS

A gal just has to know if a guy likes her, so how can you tell?

HE DOESN'T CARE SO MUCH IF—

He takes you out once every five weeks.

He drops by to see you when he hasn't anything else to do.

He doesn't notice your new hairdo.

He wants to neck all the time.

He talks about the other girls he knows.

He doubles all your dates.

He thinks it's a riot when you skin your shin.

He takes you to a party and lets you sit in a corner alone.

He wolfs every girl he sees on the street.

He doesn't bother to listen when you parade your ideas.

He takes you bowling where he shines and you puddle.

He tosses you with the privilege of doing his book reports.

YOU SHOULDN'T have to think twice about this guy. You ought to know that you aren't special to him. He can take you or leave you alone. And chasing him won't help . . . unless it's chasing him right out of your mind!

HE LIKES YOU PLENTY IF—

He takes you to his class prom.

He telephones or visits when you're sick.

He pours out his troubles to you.

He helps you with trig problems.

He doesn't think you're mad when you're just lowdown low.

He tells you you're pretty every time you wear that old blue sweater.

He gets mad too if someone hurts your feelings.

He remembers your birthday.

His hand hunts for yours at the movies.

He gets miffed if you talk about another lad.

He's prouder than you are when you cop a school honor.

He learns t[illegible]nnis because he knows you like it.

IF HE DOES most of these things . . . lad don't feel! He likes you. He may take out ten other girls . . . and feed them a line a mile long, but you're the gal he's won his heart. He hasn't said so in three little words . . . but he tells you every day . . . in another language!

If something is getting you down . . . spill it in a letter to ELIZABETH WOODWARD . . . she'll be glad to help you. Write her in care of this paper . . . and enclose a stamped and addressed envelope.

When country people go to the city they do not make any more "breaks" or blunders than the city person does in the country. Some of the most stupid remarks I ever heard came from city people when they visited in the country. It is my own opinion that city people are really greener than country people, for they are less courteous when they get out of their own sphere. They think they are smart, and laugh at the country jake but the country person is respectful and tries to be courteous when he goes to the city, and he does not pretend he knows everything worth knowing.

BLADDER STONES

Bladder stones are most frequently found in men past the age of forty. Although these stones may be found in both sexes, they are relatively uncommon in women. Apparently the tendency to bladder stone formation is inheritable, and may be passed from one generation to another.

These stones are found to a greater extent in some localities than in others, being influenced by such factors as climate and the hardness of the drinking water. Diet also seems to have considerable influence, and bladder stones are seemingly found most often among those using a diet composed chiefly of starch. A monotonous diet made up mainly of carbohydrate foods is the type of diet blamed most often by medical authorities for favoring the forming of bladder stones.

Possibly the explanation is that these starchy foods encourage fermentation in the intestinal tract, with the fermentation releasing substances which directly or indirectly give rise to stone formation.

Bladder stones seem to bear some relation to income. Those in the lower income group who would tend to use more of the starchy foods have a greater incidence of stones, while those in a higher income group who are able to afford more vegetables, meats and butter, are less troubled with bladder stones.

Sometimes it is a question whether a small stone found in the bladder originated in that organ or was formed in the kidney and migrated downward and came to rest in the bladder. If the patient reports having suffered a sharp pain, called renal colic, it is likely that the stone was built up within the kidney.

The local conditions within the bladder which seem to encourage stones to form are inflammation, retention of liquid wastes and the presence of foreign bodies. Chronic inflammation is the most common cause.

A stone may exist within the bladder without producing any symptoms, although eventually the patient generally complains of such symptoms as frequent urination, pain while emptying the bladder, and possibly bleeding. The pain may radiate to the back or thighs and may be attributed to rheumatism by the patient. When there is considerable bladder irritation, movement may cause pain, and close observation of the patient will show that while walking he moves slowly and with care, lest a sudden movement increase the pain.

The small stone may escape from the bladder spontaneously without any treatment being used. The larger type of stone must usually be removed.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Brilliance and Pageantry Mark Legislature Opening

BY HILDA EBBERS

Brilliance and pageantry attended upon the opening of parliamentary bodies, was revived in Edmonton Thursday afternoon, at the opening of the third session of the 10th Alberta Legislature, the first formal opening since 1939.

The ceremony was colorful in every respect. The uniforms of the 50 Canadian Officers' Training Corps outside the building, the re-tinue of officers forming the special escort for His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, the scarlet uniforms of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the gold braided uniform and cocked hat worn by His Honor, the riot of color formed by more than 250 potted plants along the landings, the red carpet on the stately marble staircase, the simple black, with a touch of white worn by the pages, the fashionable and smart attire worn by the women, all testified to the brilliance and splendor of the occasion.

THE 15-GUN salute, absent during the wartime opening, punctuated the formal opening. The galleries were crowded with spectators and seated on the floor of the house for the first time since 1939 were deputy ministers, prominent members of the military, of the clergy, of the provincial and civic governments, and their wives.

Members of His Honor's party and Mrs. Bowen were their daughters. Mrs. Francis Neal and Mrs. Ruth Bowen, Mrs. C. V. Deere, wife of his honor's secretary, Mrs. Ernest Manning, and Maj. Allan Gillies, aide-de-camp.

Mrs. Bowen wore a slipper-length royal blue velvet model complemented by a rose-flowered hat, white gloves and a necklace of pearls. Mrs. Neal chose a formal afternoon frock in fushia tone with matching velvet chapeau and twin silver fox furs. Mrs. Ruth Bowen wore a floor-length black, offset with a turquoise trimmed bodice and black hat with matching furs. Mrs. Deere also wore a black floor-length gown with black hat accentuated with a graceful turquoise plume. Mrs. Manning was attired in a navy blue crepe afternoon frock, circled at the waist by diagonal bands of faille ribbon. Her hat was a tiny navy blue model of Milan straw with a flower-bedecked brim and tiny bows in Kelly green. Twin silver foxes and navy blue accessories completed her ensemble.

WIVES OF the cabinet ministers were also seated on the floor, of the assembly. Mrs. W. W. Cross chose a two-tone afternoon ensemble with a black skirt, lime green bodice and short sleeves. Her hat was a flowered model in blending shades and her only jewelry a necklace of pearls. Her long gloves were of a harmonizing lime green.

A black dress with pale blue trim and touches of gold was chosen by Mrs. N. E. Tanner. She wore a high-crowned black hat with a blue feather, black gloves and gold and blue earrings to tone. Mrs. D. B. MacMillan was frocked in a two-piece lime green crepe model, a small black hat and black accessories. Mrs. Lucien Maynard chose a chocolate brown dress-maker suit with a blue blouse and brown hat and accessories. Her corsage was of iris.

Mrs. C. E. Gerhart wore a long-sleeved black afternoon frock with a jet trim around the neckline. Her hat was of black straw and a silver fox fur completed her ensemble.

MRS. A. J. HOOKE chose a rose two-piece wool frock complemented with silver fox fur and a black felt hat with lacey veil. A two-piece navy blue silk crepe frock was chosen by Mrs. R. E. Ansley, with a navy straw hat with lighter blue trim and navy blue accessories.

Mrs. W. A. Fallow wore a wine dressmaker suit with matching wine tweed bag, lime green blouse and brown felt hat with lime green feather trim. Her corsage was of Talisman roses.

Immediately after the opening, Mrs. Manning and wives of the cabinet ministers held a reception in the speaker's chambers, when guests were members of the Legislature and their wives, federal members for Alberta, government, military and civic official and their wives. Receiving with Mrs. Manning were Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Tanner. Ferns, potted plants and begonias were used to decorate the balcony and drawing room. Red carnations, white narcissus and colorful tulips in a silver bowl formed the centre-piece of the tea table. Laid in ecru lace, the table was set with silver tea services at each end, with green and gold tapers in silver candelabra completing the arrangement.

U.S. Request

Ask Report of Russ Looting in Manchuria

By WALTER LOGAN

CHUNGKING, Feb. 15.—(BUP)—The United States has asked China for a full explanation of reports that Russia is stripping all Manchurian industry as "war booty" without consulting the other Allied powers, an authoritative source disclosed today.

THIS INFORMANT said Washington has asked Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government for a detailed account of Russian activities in the liberated Manchurian territories, including the alleged looting of industrial equipment.

Persistent but unconfirmed reports circulated in Chungking that the United States dispatched a similar request to the Soviet government.

The American action was understood to have been taken after Chiang expressed concern to the United States over the continued presence of the Red Army in Manchuria. The Russians originally were scheduled to leave the territory last December, but their departure has been postponed several times and no definite date has yet been fixed.

AMERICAN CONCERN apparently centred on the reported industrial looting by Russian troops in Manchuria, particularly since the United States representation committee headed by Edwin W. Pauley only recently was refused permission to enter the Russian-held territory.

It was pointed out that an allied representation committee already is functioning in Germany on disposition of German industrial equipment, whereas the United States has no voice in the disposal of Manchurian industries, although it was the principle foe of Japan throughout the war.

HIGH CHINESE officials privately have confirmed reports that the Russians are stripping everything of value from Manchuria, but they have refrained from making the charges officially.

These officials asserted that Russia is following an "opportunistic" policy in Manchuria and reaching for every possible advantage.

Canada Praised For Butter Cut To Aid Britain

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Canada's decision to cut her butter ration from six to four ounces a week to permit greater exports to Britain and Australia's efforts to increase wheat exports brought the only applause in the House of Commons yesterday during a long, doleful review of the food situation by Sir Ben Smith, food minister.

REPLYING TO blunt questions by the dapper Anthony Eden, acting leader of the opposition, whose main plaint was that the house and the public had not been sufficiently warned of the gravity of the food shortage, Sir Ben traced a long chapter of catastrophe.

He spoke with knowledge that the government faces its sharpest criticism of the session, both from the opposition and from some of its own members, following the cut-off of dried egg allocations on the British ration and public surprise at the announcement last week of a cut in the fats ration and the possibility of bread rationing.

LAYING A BUNDLE of papers on the table before him, Sir Ben, more red-faced than usual, spoke first of short crops and droughts which have cut grain production in various countries. Wheat no longer was available in great supply for human use. He made a passing reference to shipments during the years of wheat plenty of 174,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat to the United States for livestock feed.

He told of conferences with producing countries aimed at conserving wheat and how the real seriousness of the situation became apparent in December with detailed reports from the combined food board. With these reports came new wheat demands from the Far East, where rice was short. All the searching for supplies and conservation efforts could not bring the world shortage to less than 5,500,000 tons.

Sir Ben said he would like to see less wheat fed to livestock in North America and more corn grown in South America.

URGENT MESSAGES had gone to the dominions from Prime Minister Attlee asking assistance in meeting needs. He recognized the dominions already were doing all they could to make food available but Canada had decided to reduce her butter ration and Australia to divert wheat from feed for animals to export. What the dominions did was a "proud record" for "a mere call from the home country brought about a decision to cut their own rations."

Sir Ben said he must warn the house there might be further sacrifices in store. Coarse grains might have to be included in bread but he hoped to avoid that.

CONSTABLES L. EDMUNDS and N. Floyd, responding to the call, found that a .38 calibre bullet had been fired through the outside wall of the building, entering about three-and-one-half feet below the bathroom window. The bullet crossed the room and lodged in the bathroom door.

Police believe the bullet was fired about 12:30 a.m. Thursday at which time Mrs. Zablocki heard a noise in the vicinity of the bathroom. She told police that she hadn't paid any attention to it.

The Zablocki family could offer no suggestions as to who might want to shoot at them. No reports have been received of a gun being fired in the vicinity.

Youths, 15, Admit Theft of Cheques

Theft of Dominion government gratuity cheques and war saving certificates totalling $300.30 been admitted by two 15-year-old boys, who were apprehended by city police Thursday afternoon. Youths told police that they had obtained the money by following postmen around their routes and collecting the letters containing the cheques before the addressees picked them up.

IN EACH CASE THE LETTER had been delivered to the address to which the cheques were mailed. The youths said they could easily identify the letters containing the cheques.

While servicemen awaited their gratuity cheques and fumed at the delay of the Dominion treasury branch in delivering them, the two boys were finding little difficulty in having them cashed by city department stores. Both stated that they had no trouble in negotiating them despite their age. Pleasure of making sales apparently overcame caution usually exercised by merchants, they said.

In every case the cheques were negotiated at stores, where purchases were made for a small amount and the remainder of the value of the cheque received in cash. Out of the $300.30 the youths obtained $288.27 in cash, the remainder being spent on merchandise which was either traded at second hand stores, or thrown away.

Both boys are understood to have lengthy juvenile court records.

Larger Number Of Fire Boxes In City Urged

Expansion of the city's fire alarm box system to permit the installation of a large number of boxes in the outlying residential districts is advocated in the annual report on the fire department's 1945 activities, which was submitted to the city commissioners Friday by Fire Chief James Macgregor.

IN HIS REPORT he points out that the fire alarm box system is now fully loaded, and that additions to the system, no matter how small, would be in violation of the underwriters' code.

It is pointed out that fire alarm boxes should be installed in greater numbers throughout the outlying districts of the city, but this cannot be done until additions are made to the present system.

"IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION should be given this matter so that provision be made to increase the very necessary fire protection to these districts," Chief Macgregor reported.

During 1945 there were 1,312 alarms turned in to the fire department, and the department travelled a total of 42,312.7 miles to attend these calls. Approximately 125,000 feet of hose was laid in the fighting of fire, 360 gallons of chemical was used and 59,244 gallons were passed through the pressure tanks of equipment.

INSURANCE INVOLVED in the 1945 fires totalled $3,056,000.75, and the loss adjusted amounted to $207,586.69. Of the insurance total involved $2,207,750.75 was on the commercial buildings, and the loss adjustment was $147,587.56. Insurance on dwellings amounted to $401,456, and the loss adjustment to $57,021.33. Insurance on apartments totalled $356,800 with loss adjustment at $2,977.

CENTRAL HALL PLAN

AN intelligent plan. Designed and built by one of Edmonton's best builders. You will like the central hall plan. An attractive French door opens into the large living room. The bedrooms, bathroom and kitchen all open from the central hall. All the rooms are quiet and private. Large front bedroom with two south windows and a nice clothes closet. Large back bedroom with good clothes closet and corner windows. This bedroom is suitable for twin beds. The bathroom is located just right. It is between the two bedrooms at the end of the hallway. Two linen closets.

DELUXE KITCHEN

Ultra Modern Cabinet Kitchen. Superior cupboards. Hand picked, carefully selected, natural grain 12-ply cabinet doors. These cupboards are similar to those you see advertised, usually for future delivery. Revolving shelves, etc. Modern sink. Attractive large square window over the sink with nice view. Plenty of room in kitchen for breakfast table. Door to the dining room opens, just right for convenience. Enclosed back porch. Clothes line comes into the inside of the porch.

BEAUTIFUL LIVING ROOM

The large living room together with the dining room extend all across the one side of the bungalow. Lots of sunshine from the south windows. Attractive large fireplace. Glass brick window and large dining room window. Beautiful, best quality oak floors. These two rooms are together and at the same time each has kept its own individuality. The dining room is very attractive and convenient to kitchen. It is not large and it is not too small. The dining room is designed for an average size suite.

SUPERIOR STRUCTURE
STUCCO BY BECKETT

Superior stucco. Superior plaster. LYLE BROS. believe this bungalow has superior construction throughout. Good, deep, full size, bright sunny basement. Best concrete job. A genuine "supreme" gas furnace, pipes are high and out of the way, like they should be. Basement is suitable, we think, for extra rooms. Roughed in now for extra plumbing. Would be a great place for rumpus room. Space in basement for two or three extra rooms. Good sub floors, 3-inch fir laid diagonal. AND PLEASE NOTE, extra rooms could be made some time, if required, in a good attic. From the central hall you may open a door and see a good stair going to an unfinished attic. This large attic is left ready to be finished some day into a couple of rooms (and who knows when they may be needed). It seems the builder thought of everything.

LOCATION IS SO PERMANENT

Central location, near street cars. Handy to Catholic schools, close to public schools, near high schools. Easy walking distance to university. Not far to stores. In a good block among other good quality, high class homes. Large lot, 41 feet.

MOVE RIGHT IN

Possession in 72 hours.

Owner leaving when sold. You may move right in. Why build? Here is a new, ultra modern, good large bungalow at a price less than cost of construction. Here is an opportunity to have a new home without waiting and you se what you are getting. The low gas bills have proved the construction.

The peace, did we win it?
How do we like it now we're in it?
The war is over—yes—over here,
And where are the mothers' sons so dear?

There is a peace that ends all strife;
Even ends quarrels 'twixt man and wife.
When the Prince of Peace rules within
You love everybody, but hate all sin.

Entire Egyptian Cabinet Resigns After Disorders

CAIRO, Feb. 15—(AP)—Prime Minister Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashi Pasha and his entire coalition cabinet resigned today.

Sources close to the government immediately predicted Premier Nokrashi would be asked to form a new cabinet which would include only members of his own Saadist party and members of the Liberal Constutution party, which already has a strong group in opposition ranks.

IT WAS EXPECTED the Wafdist party would be omitted from the government. Three members of the old cabinet, members of the Kotla Independent group of the Wafdist opposition, resigned yesterday in protest against alleged government severity in putting down anti-British student riots.

British Ambassador Lord Killearn left for London during the day for consultations of an undisclosed nature.

CAIRO, Feb. 15—(BUP)—Egyptian mounted policemen today charged students who gathered in Azhar street shouting "Down with England—evacuation or revolution."

The incident completed a full week of demonstrations against the presence of British forces in Egypt and government concurrence with British policy.

Today's demonstration began after the noon prayers. Steel-helmeted police swung forward and dispersed the students into the narrow by-streets, where they tried ineffectually to regroup for further action.

Authorities said only a few minor casualties occurred.

Chiang Announces Chinese Now Free

SHANGHAI, Feb. 15—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek yesterday told a crowd estimated by police at nearly 500,000 that China now is "free and independent" and that "we no longer have to live as slaves and beasts of burden."

The throng, which police said was the largest gathering in Shanghai's history, waved national flags and roared its approval of the wartime leader.

"Follow the example of our allies—the United States, Britain, France and Soviet Russia," Gen. Chiang exhorted the masses.

"THEIR CITIZENS are disciplined and responsible. That is why they were able to defeat their enemies, the Axis and the Japanese. If we wish to be able to stand side by side with them we will have to observe discipline and be responsible . . ."

The national pride voiced by the generalissimo was reflected by rising criticism in Chungking of the Russian postion in Manchuria.

The influential newspaper Ta Kung Pao asserted China paid a price for Russia's entry into the war against Japan, and "we hope she won't be required to pay any more than she is willing to pay."

Project Abandoned After Million Spent

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Removal of Ripple Rock in Seymour Narrows on the inland route to Alaska, a project in which the federal government has spent more than $1,000,000, has been ordered abandoned, an official of the B.C. Bridge and Dredging Company, the contractors, said yesterday. The company has been instructed by federal authorities to dismantle a cable system installed last year for removal of the rock, a dangerous menace to navigation on the coast, the official stated.

"Good Samaritan" Gets Butter Gift

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 15—(AP)—Dr. R. E. Dodge is sold on being a "Good Samaritan". He picked up a stranded motorist and hauled him and a can of gasoline to the stranger's automobile. The man gratefully handed the doctor three pounds of butter.

Russia Backing Levant's Stand In UNO Dispute

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Russia threw her support to the Levant states in the United Nations Security Council today, declaring their sovereignty had been "clearly violated" by the occupation by British and foreign troops.

VICE COMMISSAR Andrei Vishinsky told the council a French proposal to permit Britain and France to work out an agreement on withdrawal of their forces from Syria and Lebanon "cannot satisfy the Soviet Union."

M. Vishinsky spoke after the United States had suggested that the Levant states settle their complaint by direct negotiation.

The United States representative, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., added, however, that if this decision were approved it should be made clear that the council has "continuing concern in the matter and would receive progress reports on the negotiations."

LEBANON ACCUSED Britain and France of a "grave attack on the sovereignty" of the Levantine states and demanded "immediate and simultaneous evacuation" of foreign troops.

Foreign Minister Hamid Bey Frangie of Lebanon opened debate on Syrian-Lebanese charges against Britain and France, an issue which forced the Security Council to remain in London as delegates to the first general assembly departed for home.

HE TOLD the 11-nation peace agency that the presence of British and French troops constitutes "a permanent menace of meddling in the internal affairs of a member of the UNO" and declared that their presence is "not dictated by military necessity, nor by agreement of the governments, nor by international accord."

More Telephones In Service Here

Topping the previous record of telephones in service by 66 a total of 24,947 instruments were reported in use in residences and business places on Feb. 11, according to a statement filed Friday with the city commissioner by Robert Christie, superintendent of the telephone system. The previous record number of telephones was 24,881.

OF THE 24,947 telephones in use on Feb. 11 there were 14,564 in residences and 10,383 in places of business. On the same day last year there were 24,185 in service, of which 14,394 were in residences, and 9,791 in places of business.

Revenue collected by the department from Jan. 1 to Feb. 11 this year amounted to $137,085.92, compared with $134,341.79 for the same period of 1945, an increase of $2,744.13.

Gets Three Months For Bicycle Theft

Marvin Huppie, who won a dismissal on a theft charge in city police court less than two weeks ago, was sentenced to three months imprisonment on a similar charge Friday morning. He pleaded guilty to stealing a cycle belonging to a 14-year-old boy.

THE ACCUSED MAN was apprehended by Constable J. Dean about 10:30 p.m. Thursday when he attempted to obtain a "loan" from a city taxi firm by leaving the cycle as security. Charge of stealing a garden cultivator was dismissed last Feb. 4.

Possessor of a long police record, Huppie was told by Magistrate A. I. Millar, KC, that he was fortunate to have obtained a dismissal the last time he appeared and that he could expect no leniency this time.

Calgary Agency To Probe Housing

CALGARY, Feb. 15—(CP)—In co-operation with other councils in Western Canada the Calgary council of social agencies will attempt to organize a citizens' housing committee to consider proposals regarding long term housing needs of the citizens of this community. This was decided at a meeting of the board last night.

Under the National Housing act only persons with considerable means can build homes, it was pointed out at the meeting. It was suggested that a low rental housing scheme which would be government subsidized should be introduced.

It was decided that recommendations should be sent to the municipal, provincial and federal governments suggesting a subsidized housing scheme be set up for persons in a low income bracket and that slum areas should be torn down and subsidized housing accommodation be erected for persons living there.

Plans Complete For Elevation of New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Canada's first English-speaking cardinal will take a place in the sacred college of cardinals when 32 new princes of the Roman Catholic church are created in ceremonies at the Vatican next week. Most Rev. J. C. McGuigan of Toronto then will don his red hat for the first and last time.

Election of the Archbishop of Toronto and the other cardinals-elect will be a formality. The pope, who on Dec. 23 filled the college, for the first time in modern times, to its full enrollment of 70, has the prerogative of naming his counsellors. But that detracts nothing from the solemnity of the week-long series of public and secret consistories.

Road Ahead

need of veterans for shelter as a lever to get action from the government. So far all they have got themselves is a certain amount of abuse and the suspicion of a great many people.

In the first place I have yet to hear of a case where a property owner has been unfairly treated in so far as rent-fixing is concerned by the Renting Control Board. I know that a lot of them are mad because the rental control won't let them boost rents up to the figures that some desperate home-seekers are willing to offer. I know that many of them have resorted to every conceivable kind of dodge in an effort to cash in on the misfortunes of those people who need shelter. And I know that the great majority of landlords realize the justness of the regulations and are quite content with things the way they are.

THERE IS NO DENYING the fact that there are such things as obnoxious tenants. Neither is there any denying the fact that there are such things as obnoxious landlords. But neither of these two classes exist in sufficient numbers to warrant the howls that have been raised by a vocal minority on both sides. From reading the news accounts during the past few months one would be inclined to the opinion that all tenants are obnoxious and all landlords are Shylocks. Such, of course, is not the case.

The certain facts are these—there is a critical housing shortage which is being felt especially by the veterans who have been recently discharged. No matter what steps are taken immediately there isn't going to be sufficient new housing units built to supply the demand. In the meantime there is an urgent need of shelter for those who at the present are forced to live either in tragically overcrowded or inadequate quarters or in just as tragically expensive hotel accommodation.

THE "RENT TO A veteran campaign" merely asks those home-owners, or property owners, who have accommodation they can spare, to give the veteran a break. If the veteran is obnoxious then notice can be given. If he won't obey the legal notice then the same court action may be taken as could always be taken! The Calgary Legion has offered to look after the costs of such action in that city if the home-owner rents through them. It hasn't been necessary to make this offer in Edmonton, but should it be, the Legion will be willing to do the same thing, as will any other branch of the Legion.

I'd suggest to the property owners that if they have accommodation to rent that they take advantage of the Legion's offer. If they haven't, then for heaven's sake let them leave the veterans out of their squabble with the Dominion government.

THEY AREN'T GETTING themselves any sympathy from the public nor the government by their action. And nobody need be surprised if the servicemen's members in the legislature suggest that what this province needs is an anti-boycott act with some teeth in it.
